Air Raid Tests Are Postponed

Shortage of Gasoline Makes Action Advisable

The remaining half city Air Raid Tests which had been postponed to June 6 and June 8 have again been postponed, this time for an indefinite period because of the great shortage of gasoline at this time. These tests will be completed at a later date.

The Committee on Public Safety has announced that because of the acute shortage of gasoline, none of the street department trucks will move on practice alerts until further notice.

It is likely that Army alerts and Regional alerts will be held once or twice each month and because of this fact no more local tests are planned before the fall.

The Auxiliary Police companies in the different villages still have a few vacancies in their ranks and solicit enlistments by qualified public spirited men. Applications should be made to the Lieutenant in the village or at the Civilian Defense office, Library Building, Walnut st., Newtonville.

Newton Residents B.U. Graduates

VOLUNTEER RECEPTION HELD AT NEWTON HOSPITAL

Volunteer workers at the Newton Hospital met the President of the Board of Trustees and other administrative heads of the hospital on Monday, May 24, and Thursday, May 27, in brief ceremonies to express the gratitude of the administration to the volunteers for the work which they are doing at the hospital during the national emergency. The ceremonies were planned as a formal recognition of the constantly expanding volunteer program, under which some 400 persons have already given gratuitously and liberally important service to replace the nursing and personnel shortage caused by the war.

Mr. Clifford H. Walker, President of the Board of Trustees, was assisted by Miss Mabel Mc-Vicker, Director of Nursing Service and Principal of the School of Nursing; Mrs. Mabel H. Hobbs, Director of Volunteers, and Mr. Gerhard Hartman, Director of the Hospital.

In the name of the Board of Trustees, the President gave to each of the volunteers a certificate signed by him and impressed with the hospital seal which read: "Newton Hospital, in behalf of the sick for whom it cares, expresses appreciation and tender thanks to . . . for the helpful service so generously given during the national emergency."

Miss McVicker, Mrs. Hobbs, and Mr. Hartman, for the staff, thanked those who were present, and to symbolize the gratitude of the hospital presented them with flowers.

Mr. Walker thanked the volunteers for their willing and constant service to the hospital and impressed upon them the fact that they were absolutely indispensable to the welfare of the community during these critical times. "Without your help," he said, "the sick of Newton and Wellesley could not receive adequate care, nor could this institution properly function."

With the prospect of caring for more patients than ever before in the hospital's history, the need for volunteers will be increased during the coming summer months. It is hoped that further volunteers will support their hospital, by enrolling in regular classes such as those sponsored by the Red Cross or by participating as individuals. A strong appeal is made to the women of the community for the continuance and enlargement of this vital service.

Many people have already contributed, but further contributions are needed. Please send a check for $1.00 to Mr. John B. Stetson, Treasurer, 80 Dedham st., Newton Highlands, and try to attend the ceremony.

Several Injured in Explosion Here

Caused By Brush Fire Spark Igniting Fireworks

An explosion at the plant formerly occupied by the Masten & Wells Fireworks Manufacturing Company at 267 Needham st., Newton Upper Falls, on Monday forenoon, was felt for a distance of several miles, and caused injuries to three members of the Newton Fire Department and a city employee. Windows in other factories and nearby homes were also damaged by the force of the explosion.

On Saturday afternoon there had been a two-alarm fire at the plant which damaged two of the 35 buildings. The fire, which is believed to have been set by boys, caused damage of about $2000. One of the buildings which was formerly used as a drying room contained a considerable quantity of sulphur and other inflammable material. The first alarm was sounded at 3:04 and the second at 3:17 and the firemen fought the blaze for about two hours, being hampered by the dense smoke.

On Monday a brush fire was discovered near the scene of Saturday's fire and the fire department was summoned and the blaze quickly checked, but later broke out and the firemen recalled. A spark from the fire, however, reached a pile of explosives near one of the buildings that had been burned on Saturday, and the explosion occurred.

Patrolman Joseph Carroll and James Halloran who were on duty guarding the property, sounded an alarm from Box 623 located at the plant, and additional apparatus was sent to the scene. The building which had been partially destroyed in the fire on Saturday and another small building were entirely wrecked by the explosion. The firemen under the direction of Chief John E. Corcoran had the blaze under control in a short time and took precautions to prevent its spreading to any of the other buildings.

When the explosion occurred eight city employees and 10 firemen, who were standing nearby, were hurled to the ground. Hoseman Francis J. Farrell of Engine 4, Ladderman John W. Scott of Ladder 2, Hoseman Lawrence N. Clark of Engine 2 of the Newton Fire Department and Frederick Young, an employee of the Newton Public Building Department, were taken to the Newton Hospital where they were treated for injuries about the face, shock and concussion. However none of the injuries were considered as serious.

The buildings formerly occupied by the fire works concern are now the property of the City of Newton. The State fire marshal's office has announced that the owners of the contents of the buildings have claimed the same and state explosive experts will remove the materials which will be turned over to the United States Government for use in making ammunition.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

IN EFFECT ITALY will be out of the war one hour after the Mediterranean islands of Sicily, Pantelleria, Corsica and Sardinia come into United Nations' hands.

There may be no immediate change of regime but as surely as if Mussolini were in jail the might of Fascism will go into an eclipse when the island stepping-stones to Italy are taken over.

Otherwise Italy will be subjected to a bombing pulverization which will maim her for a generation to come.

No tears need be shed for Mussolini, arch traitor to human progress and liberty, who had the opportunity to build Italy into one of the truly great nations of the world.

It must never be forgotten that but for Mussolini there would have been no World War II. It was Mussolini who, by the Fascist rape of Abyssinia, started the Axis bandits on the road to conquest. It was Mussolini who gave Hitler the green light to go ahead in the destruction of Austria. It was Mussolini who made Munich possible, and with it the liquidation of Czechoslovakia. It was Mussolini who stabbed France in the back and helped Germany in the waylaying of Holland, Belgium, Norway, Greece and the other conquered United Nations. And it was Mussolini who contrived the scuttling of the hopeful Spanish Republic.

As inglorious as were Mussolini's deeds against other nations, they were equally reprehensible against his own Italian people. Straight-jacketing a nation which by instinct and make-up was meant for peace, Mussolini militarized the rank and file, stifled their decency, debased their standard of living and generally made them a laughing stock in the eyes of the world.

So after more than a decade of making a nuisance of himself Mussolini is all but finished. Good riddance!

BEG it, or borrow it, or buy it... But READ IT! "We Hold These Truths" (Harpers & Brothers). Compiled by Stuart G. Brown. A bible of the American democratic heritage. Presents in their entirety 44 of the primary documents of American history from the Mayflower Compact to President Roosevelt's first inaugural address. A book that should be in every American home, school and public library.

STRAW IN THE WIND! Marcel Poinbouff, member of the French Confederation of the Christian Workers Bureau, who was among five French leaders to escape from France recently to join General De Gaulle, reports that nearly 1,000,000 French workers have been deported to Germany and other occupied countries.

SO IT WASN'T Montgomery's 8th Army that beat the Germans and Italians after all! It was merely hunger complicated by foot weariness! At least so says Hitler! The professional beclouding of facts as resorted to by the Germans after the disastrous defeat of the Afrika Korps, is nothing new. Hitler and his henchmen on their rise to power, sold the German people the fiction that German arms had not been defeated in the last war. Collapse came, according to Hitler, because Germany had been stabbed in the back by her civilian population.

The newest falsification, plus Von Arnim's temperamental refusal to agree to terms of surrender, emphasizes the importance of a vigorous driving home to the German people of the reality and conclusiveness of their defeat. This must be done so that no future demagogue of the Hitler variety may ever arise to propagate the fraud that the German surrender was for any other reason than that she had been bested in ability, courage and spirit.

This is not only a war to knock the stuffings out of the German people, it is also a war to knock the conceit out of the German people.

WORD-EATING DEPARTMENT

"The incessant attacks of the Axis force against Malta have paralyzed even the defensive purpose of the island fortress. The British garrison of Malta is fighting today on the whole merely for their lives."—Volkischer Beobachter (May 15, 1942). "Events are marching and the power of Italy's adversaries is cracking. The name of Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham will be connected with the decline of Britain's naval power." Radio Rome, (May 18, 1942). "The Mediterranean is under the control of the German and Italian armed forces."—Radio Luxembourg, in German (May 19, 1942).

POETIC JUSTICE... Japan is compelled to supply Soviet Russia with strategic raw materials with which to fight Germany, including Malayan rubber, some of which is finding its way to the United States, and Chinese tungsten, some of which is going to the British!

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

CLUB: "There's a definite Fascist type of mind, no matter whether it belongs to a Jap in Java, to a rich industrialist in Paris, or to a Quisling in Norway, and this type of mind has for years been busy blocking all real progress in the world and practicing large-scale crime. That is what this war is about. The reason why the people on our side will fight and toil and suffer without any Gestapo to whip them or any Goebbels spreading false threats among them, is because they believe this is their war and in which they fight for their own cause. And Lord help anybody who tries to falsify the issues and to cheat them now."—J. B. Priestley.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 1, 1888
Watertown has been spurred on by Newton's example, and will have a meeting to organize a co-operative bank.

The exterior of the additions to the Newton National Bank building are nearly completed, and are a great improvement to the business portion of Newton. The former space, the extra room having been urgently needed for a long time.

Riders on bicycles and tricycles will please remember that it is an unlawful act to ride on the sidewalks. The highways in our city are suitable for any kind of vehicle.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 2, 1893
The caterpillars are getting in their work on some of the apple trees about the city and the foliage is fast disappearing. Evidently many people are not yet educated up to the point of caring for their trees, and some missionary work is needed.

The police have donned their summer helmets.

The new car station at Newton Upper Falls was well patronized on the 30th. Over 5000 people went over the street railway—the largest number yet accommodated.

The new cafe at Echo Bridge was opened Saturday by its proprietor, Mr. G. Woodman, and quite a business was done. Memorial day, when a large number visited the bridge.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, May 31, 1918
Memorial Day was cloudy and cool, an ideal day for a parade and veterans of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., took advantage of the weather.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the Red Cross Fund Drive was when the New England general committee instituted a bid-competition for the privilege of naming one of the war vessels now on the stocks at an Atlantic coast shipyard. Mayor Childs, in the name of several prominent Newtonians made a bid of $6,000 for the privilege, there being three other cities who bid in the contest. Newton's bid was highest, so that one of the ships will bear the name, "City of Newton."

Newtonville

—Mrs. Mervin S. Giles announces that the Newtonville Red Cross Surgical Dressing Group began on June 2nd, meeting once a week throughout the summer on Wednesdays. Every home of Newtonville should be represented. You are needed and will be welcomed! Place: Masonic Hall, Newtonville. Follow the Red Cross Flag. Time: 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., or any part of that time.

—Let making Red Cross Surgical Dressings be your only Wednesday engagement throughout the summer, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., at the Masonic Hall, Newtonville.

—George Delaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney, 99 Atwood ave., and a graduate of Kents Hill Seminary, Kents Hill, Me., was one of 13 graduating seniors from Brown University to be awarded a varsity athletic insignia at Class Day exercises June 1. Delaney led the list, receiving three awards in sports with a captain's award in basketball. He also participated in football and baseball.

—Miss Pauline Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lewis, 38 Brookdale rd., was graduated on Sunday from Monticello College, Alton, Ill., at the 105th commencement exercises of the institution. Miss Lewis, who will be returning to spend the summer with her parents, has been active in student affairs at Monticello. As a class leader she took part in the Class Day ceremonies Saturday and in the academic procession on Sunday.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Our New Czar

Watch carefully the words and deeds of our most recent czar of czars, Hon. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. This former Congressman, United States Senator and Supreme Court Justice is the head of the new Office of War Mobilization, an over-all agency designed to straighten out the mix-ups between agencies and co-ordinate the unco-ordinated. At long last, the home front has a real leader who will have the time, ability and power to obtain results in a big way. Let us hope that he will not hesitate to move swiftly in knocking stubborn heads together and beating some common sense into those recalcitrant bureaucrats who appear to have lost sight of the fact that we are fighting a life and death global war and who can see only their own petty ambitions and prerogatives. It is just barely possible that we may have some more OPA resignations as a result of the Byrnes appointment.

Another point. This man Byrnes is now, to all intents and purposes, the assistant President of the United States. What could be more logical than his elevation to the actual office of Vice President in 1944? If Mr. Roosevelt decides to try for a fourth term he will, presumably, find it necessary to ditch the admirable but idealistic Henry Agard Wallace who cannot even carry his own home state. F. D. R. will have an imperative need for a running-mate who has marked ability of a practical sort and, incidentally, substantial vote-getting ability. As I view the situation today, Byrnes is just the man. He is a better bet than Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who has recently been put forward as a possible running-mate for the President in 1944. Furthermore, if the Democrats should win in 1944, Byrnes would prove an active, functioning Vice-President rather than a pleasing non-entity, as has frequently been the case in the past.

Finally, if we take a still longer look ahead and consider the possibilities of Mr. Roosevelt's enforced retirement from office before 1945 and the fact that his four-year term is almost over, the cause, is it not true that a man of the Byrnes type would calm the country and win the support of business men and conservative voters everywhere? Frankly, I should "view with alarm" a White House occupied by Henry Agard Wallace. Wouldn't you?

Republican Post-War Policies

Score another point for the bitter enemies of Wendell L. Willkie in the Republican party. I may, of course, be wrong but it seems to me that a rather flimsy excuse was offered by Harrison Spangler, chairman of the National Committee of the G. O. P., when he deliberately left Willkie out in the cold in naming his committee of 49 to consider post-war policies. His excuse was that only elected officials of the party were named to this vitally important committee. Now, it is true that the members of the National Committee itself are, technically, elected by the voters. Consequently, it is proper to have members of the party appointed to the post-war policy committee. However, it is not true that the average voter does not have the slightest influence in the original nomination of these National Committeemen? What do any of my readers know about the National Committee? Who picks the members of this august body? Most certainly NOT the rank and file of the voters in either party; most certainly NOT any caucus or party convention. Let's be honest. Members are picked by a relatively small handful of party leaders. The first thing that you and I know about it all is when we pick up our ballot and find a name on it.

With that in mind, is it not a bit naive to have Spangler announce that ONLY ELECTED officials were appointed to this committee? You will notice, however, that most of Willkie's powerful enemies in the G. O. P. are members of this post-war committee. I see the names of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and a number of lesser lights. These three men took Willkie's dust in the 1940 convention and they have never forgiven him. That was the colorful Mr. Taft's one and only chance to "go places" and he missed out. It was also, doubtless, the cagey Mr. Vandenberg's last opportunity to go higher than the United States Senate. He has not forgotten that sad fact. As for Mr. Dewey, it is true, of course, that he has renounced any and all political ambition UNTIL he has completed his full four-year term as Governor of New York. He may have noticed, too, how extremely active his close political friends seem to be right now? Surely Mr. Dewey cannot fail to note the numerous shrewd moves which they are making. Has he stopped his friends? Not so you would notice.

Well, let's watch developments closely. With Willkie out in the cold and with former President Herbert Hoover likewise on the back-door step along with Alfred Landon of Kansas (remember him? He ran for President in '36), we have a curious situation. Willkie is head and shoulders above any other member of the new committee. He represents the G. O. P.'s ONLY hope in 1940 and yet he will have no voice in the committee's deliberations. Stupid, is it not?

Commander Dowd is the dental examiner attached to the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at the First District Headquarters, 150 Causeway st., Boston, Mass. Commander Dowd, a resident of Newton Centre for many years, maintains his home at 866 Beacon st., where he conducted the practice of dentistry prior to his entry into the service in the fall of 1940.

His first tour of duty was at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Newport, Rhode Island, from which he was detached in May of 1942 and was transferred to his present station.

George L. McMahon, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. McMahon of 306 River st., West Newton, has been undergoing training as crew chief of a B-26 Martin bomber at the Rome Air Depot, Rome, N. Y., under the direction of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command in Fitchburg, Mass. Recently graduated from a course at Glenn L. Martin Aircraft plant, Baltimore, Md., has been promoted to corporal because of his demonstrated ability to absorb technical training. Bombardier Cadet John G. Sundborg of Newton, at the San Angelo Army Air Field, became a member of one of the world's most exclusive organizations—the Society of Axis Exterminators.

Washington — The season for peace feelers is in full swing again. From Switzerland comes a report that Hjalmar Schacht, the Nazi financial wizard, has been dropped from the ranks of the Nazi party. Another report has it that two American officials met with anti-Fascist Marshal Badoglio in a neutral country to discuss peace terms with Italy. These legends, put out by Nazi sources, are probably based on the assumption that any German or Italian whom the dictators dislike will be welcomed by the Allies. The terms purportedly "offered" the Americans included an Italo-German break, the ousting of Mussolini, with Badoglio to head a new Italian Government under King Victor Emmanuel, Italy then to follow British-American leadership. The only answer to these phony pleas is the magnificent phrase Unconditional Surrender.

Military analysts here are convinced that the coming invasion of Europe will be scattered over a wide area. Possibilities stack up as follows: A thrust at the Balkans by the British armies in the Middle East; a drive on Norway and a simultaneous attack against Italy and a tremendous blast across the English Channel at France or the Low Countries.

And should the Russians ally-invasion operations, Hitler could not call any of his 4,000,000 soldiers or the bulk of his air force now deployed on the long Russian battle front.

Hitler's "Europa Fortress" is only as strong as guns, planes and his slaves can make it. And in spite of the frantic preparations now being made for the expected assault, no defensive fortifications today can withstand the onslaught of the determined Allied armies. But leaders of the United Nations are not mistaking possibilities and achievements as so many commentators do. "The end of the war is only beginning," say military men, "and we are geared for at least two more years of war in Europe." They speak with confidence. The confidence of men who know that they are capable of shedding more blood, sweat and tears until final victory is won.

Cadet Sundborg and his fellow members of the junior class were initiated into this brotherhood of the bombsight, the world's only club for bombardiers, by members of the school's senior class.

The Society of Axis Exterminators is composed exclusively of bombardiers who received their training at this West Texas bombardier school. The society has but one aim—the destruction of Axis military objectives by means of bombs.

Along with other members of his class, Cadet Sundborg received a membership card bearing the portrait of the school mascot, Bugs Bunny, and authorizing him to "damage, destroy, demolish and otherwise bomb the hell out of the Axis."

Asa Francis Fisk, who has served in the Personnel Department of the Jeffersonville Quartermaster Depot since he reported for duty on November 18, 1942, has been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant, according to an announcement issued by Brigadier General Allen R. Kimball, Commanding General of the Army station.

A notice of Newton Centre where he resided at 50 Elmore st., Lt. Fisk is a graduate of the Newton High School, and of Princeton University, Class of 1932. He engaged in business until 1938, and thereafter was associated with the Stow-Woodward Inc., Newton Upper Falls, Mass., as an Industrial Engineer, until called to active duty as a second lieutenant in the Quartermaster Reserves, Aug. 13, 1942. He served at Fort Custer and Fort Brady, Michigan, and Camp Lee, Virginia, until assigned to his present post at the Jeffersonville Depot.

Lieut. Fisk is single, and resides at 4026 Winchester rd., St. Matthews, Kentucky.

A Lecture Christian Science entitled Christian Science: Its Healing Salvation

by
ANNA E. HERZOG, C.S.B., of Columbus, Ohio
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

On Tuesday evening a large and interested audience at First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton listened to a lecture by Anna E. Herzog, C.S.B., of Columbus, Ohio, who spoke on the subject "Christian Science: Its Healing Salvation." The lecturer was introduced by Edmonds P. Lingham, First Reader, who said:

Friends: In behalf of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, I cordially welcome you to this lecture. Tonight, each of us will gain an increased understanding of Christian Science, and how it functions in human affairs. Like most of its adherents, I was attracted to Christian Science through physical healing. I have since learned that it is applicable to every problem, including those of business, as our lecturer will explain. Two years ago it became necessary to make a business change. I sought God's help, as we are taught in Christian Science. As His plan unfolded, I was led into a situation that has proved harmonious, active and profitable. For this instance, and numerous others where Christian Science met the need of the moment, I am deeply grateful.

Our lecturer, Mrs. Anna E. Herzog, C.S.B., of Columbus, Ohio, is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. She will address us on the subject: "Christian Science: Its Healing Salvation." It is my privilege to present Mrs. Herzog.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Although the word "salvation" is not always the one employed, saving itself from error has been the chief aim of mankind. Through the ages earnest religious endeavor has been directed to saving men from sin. Heroic medical efforts, through the centuries, have been directed toward saving men from disease, death, suffering. All educational activity has aimed to save men from ignorance and the dire effects of ignorance. Thus in its different departments has mankind sought salvation.

We here, today, are considering Christian Science and its contribution toward the eventual solution of humanity's many problems. From what does this salvation? Christian Science, the Science of Christ's Christianity, does not hesitate to declare that it saves from sin, disease, and ignorance. And it states positively that it is ignorance, ignorance of God, and all other evils are entirely due.

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "salvation" is defined as "Life, Truth, and Love understood and demonstrated as supreme over all; sin, sickness, and death destroyed" (p. 593). There the requirement, the condition of salvation, is that Life, Truth, and Love should be understood and proved supreme. The result of proving the supremacy of Truth, Life, and Love in any consciousness will be sin, sickness, and death destroyed.

It is comfort for us to know that not only is salvation from sin possible and necessary but, as Mrs. Eddy has written in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 95), "Christian Science reveals the infinitude of divinity and the way of man's salvation from sickness and death, as wrought out by Jesus, who robbed the grave of victory and death of its sting." Thousands joyously testify that such is their experience, that through the understanding of the Christian Science has brought to them of Life, Love, and Truth, much disease, sin, and ignorance have been destroyed already and are being increasingly eliminated from the experience.

God

That being true, we need to know definitely the nature of Life, Truth, and Love. In Christian Science these words are understood to be synonymous for God, and the textbook referred to before adds other synonyms also. Thus God is there defined as "incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (p. 465). Some of these words are used in the Bible as referring to God. Jesus said, "God is a Spirit," and John says, "God is love."

As God is Life and there is but one God, so there is but one Life and that infinite, perfect, eternal, harmonious, forever active. God is Soul, the one sinless, eternal consciousness, grace-filled and joyous. God is Mind, the one Mind, intelligence itself, its wisdom changeless and enduring. That one Mind contains every perfect, eternal idea and never one iota of evil, never one stupid, unlovely, or imperfect thought.

God is Principle, the basis, foundation, source, origin of reality, of all that is true. Principle is undeviating, immutable, invariable, permanent. Principle is impartial, universal, governing, and law-giving. What could be all that but God Himself? God is tender and compassionate Love, eternal, infinite Love. He is Truth, wise and enduring, exact and unchanging. He is Spirit, incorporeal, immortal, all-pervading, and ever-present—Spirit, which is invisible and intangible to human sense, but nevertheless true substance. Knowing God as Love, protecting and surrounding man; knowing Him as Mind, informing and in-power than God, another kind of universe and man than the perfect, spiritual one He knows, is sickness, sin, and death. The penalty never comes from divine Love. The penalty comes from our ignorance of the nature of Love. It comes from a mistaken sense, and it ceases when the mistaken sense ceases. These are the errors from which humanity needs to be saved.

Christian Science Healing

In spite of the dream of a man apart from God, in which mankind has been sunk, glimpses of spirituality, glimpses of God and man's noble reality have been manifested with increasing clarity throughout the ages. Salvation for the race, as for the individual, is a progressive and gradual achievement. Instinctively men turn to a power outside themselves, and through prayer—communion with God—they reach the divine inspiration which gives them strength and peace. Prayer and its beneficent and liberating results are available to all men everywhere at any time. In the jungle of city streets or war-torn areas or in the quiet of a mountainous wilderness, wherever a spiritual impulse, an uplifted longing, touches a human consciousness, there is prayer.

The Christian Scientist is often asked by a new student how to pray. The inquirer feels that his old way of praying was not very effective perhaps, and he has not yet learned a new way. He may be reassured. Any kind of prayer that brings God nearer will be a right prayer. One's concept of prayer is clarified as his concept of God grows. When fully convinced that God knows only good and knows all good and sends it unceasingly and impartially to all His ideas, we cease to plead for more of good, but pray instead that our receptivity increase, that our spiritual discernment of what already exists shall be clarified, that the obscuring mists of materiality may be dispersed. God needs no changing. To believe that we can change His plans is childish and absurd. But human consciousness does need changing. It needs to turn to the light. It needs purifying and strengthening. It needs consecration and confidence and expectancy. It needs a clearer revelation of the divine nature. Through prayer our needs are met.

Christian Science treatment is prayer. It is prayer based upon the concept of God and man of which we have been speaking. The purpose of a Christian Science treatment is to heal false beliefs of sin, disease, and death. Mankind quite rightly recognizes the desirability of health. It spends much of its time hunting for cures and preventives. Fashions change in the search for health as in the search for beauty. Some of us recall panaceas that were once considered valuable but which today are forgotten.

It has been thoroughly proved that a right change of thought brings healing. Thus Christian Science treatment is concerned only with improving thought; and if the false belief back of disease or some other problem is successfully eliminated and the consciousness of Truth fills human thought, healing occurs. If an undesirable shadow is being cast by a tree, the only way to remove the shadow is to remove the tree. Thus if fear or hate, jealousy or other dispositional error invades thought, or if some medical or physiological belief is accepted as law, they are likely to produce sick or unhappy human effects, and the effects must be got rid of by getting rid of their antecedents.

Some of our medical friends are admitting that mental causes produce disease. A statement by Dr. Royal S. Copeland has been given wide newspaper publicity. He said, if quoted correctly: "We can never attain plenty, happiness, or health if our thinking is wrong."

Another nationally known physician and surgeon has been widely quoted as saying: "The emotions worry, fear, hate, and jealousy affect every cell in the body. Some organs are stimulated, some inhibited. . . . foundations of certain characteristics of human diseases are laid." Long before that statement was made Mrs. Eddy wrote in "Science and Health" (p. 260): "A sick body is evolved from sick thoughts." A magazine article of a couple of years ago, by one eminent doctor, quotes another as saying "that the criterion for calling one disease organic and another functional is artificial, and that the line between physical and mental is fictitious." With that statement Christian Science is in agreement.

It may expect mortals to catch disease if there is any around, but it never expects them to catch health. It fears a mortal law of heredity as usually bad, instead of claiming sonship with and inheritance from a divine Father—Mother God. What if instead of believing ourselves subject to all sorts of disagreeable and harmful things, we were to insist that we are predisposed to good and susceptible only to health? Before long we should find ourselves confident of good only!

You remember that Paul enjoins us to be absent from the body and present with the Lord. Mentally keep yourselves separated from materiality, years, change, deterioration, and death. And, conversely, know your constant oneness with God, eternity, spirituality, changelessness, and immortality. No avenue or agency or law of error can reach the spiritual man. He is surrounded by the perfection of Spirit, immune to all illusions of discord and disease. The real man is not fearful of evil, expectant of disease, concerned with time, affected by disaster, anticipating accident or subject to anything less than omnipotence.

Spiritual activity in consciousness is needed to displace the lies of disease or sin or fear. I remember a case of healing which clearly illustrated that. A young woman, realizing that there was something wrong physically, went to a doctor and was told that she had a very large tumor. She turned to Christian Science for healing. What impressed the practitioner whom she employed was the spiritual activity which the young woman expressed. She asked about spiritual things and studied Science and Health, and the Bible, and tried faithfully to practice what she was learning. The periods of extreme pain from which she suffered disappeared in a week or two. Then a day came when she felt that she could put her street clothes on. That, however, caused great discomfort. It was realized that there was still work to be done. After she and the practitioner had worked for some weeks more, she was completely normal in every way and resumed her usual life. You see, as the spiritual sense of true growth was demonstrated, the physical sense of abnormal growth was eliminated.

That healing was many years ago. I saw that friend recently, and her years of health and activity reminded me of the healing of which I had known but had practically forgotten.

Falsities of long duration have no more power to intimidate you, to chain you to discord, than brief and sudden ones. Past time and material history cannot make that true which was never true to God. Time, itself a false concept, cannot provide error with resistance to Truth. Truth applied to a case of long standing is just as irresistible, just as invincible, just as effective, as when applied to a brand-new problem. Darkness was just as instantly dispelled when Tutankhamen's tomb was opened as when you lifted your window shade this morning. Where light shines, darkness cannot be, because it was never anything but the absence of light.

Certain diseases seem to be talked of and feared more than others. I recall the case of a woman who was, and is, a friend of mine. She became interested in Science twenty-odd years ago and was at that time suffering from some phase of heart trouble. She began to study Science. At the beginning she was extremely nervous and afraid of the word "heart"; she refrained from reading magazines for fear of seeing heart trouble mentioned. As she began to learn of God and man and their relation to each other, as confidence in good replaced fear—and fear is always belief in evil—she gradually lost all belief in heart trouble. Activity and hard work have filled the years since, and that woman is today the picture of health. She proved that understanding a perfect God brought salvation from belief in a defective body.

Tonight, here in this auditorium, we could all so correct thought that needed healings would be realized. Let us expect that.

Reality

Nothing real could be changed or need changing. But those who are not students of Christian Science are sometimes puzzled by its use of the word "reality." That which is God-made, eternal, spiritual, harmonious, is real; nothing else can be. Hence reality is mental. Where then is matter? Mrs. Eddy has consistently in her deductions. Having found God to be all power and good, she faced the indisputable fact that evil and matter must be unreal.

The declarations in "The scientific statement of being," on page 468 of Science and Health, which read: "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance above the Mind and its good and eternal realities, and if we resolutely hold it there and contend for the omnipotence of good, we shall find ourselves increasingly surrounded by the light and radiance of true being. Just as we found that the clouds had not destroyed the sunshine at all but had only hidden it to human sense, so we shall learn that the blinding mists of belief and illusion, apparent as sin, disease, and death, hide being and obscure God and man to human sense, but leave reality unchanged. Being, substance, identity, peace, and love are all permanent. They are untouched. They are indestructible. They are infinitely eternal. All the storms of illusion cannot injure or stop reality. All that is, forever is. All that lives, forever lives. Those are the great truths that the Christian Scientist is trying to see for himself and the world today, difficult as that seems."

He further says, "As for the external objects, remorselessly discarded by science, they are studied and measured but they are never known. Our pursuit of them has led from solid matter to molecules, from molecules to sparsely scattered electric charges, from electric charges to waves of probability. Whither next? Another physicist pertinently remarks that 'the electron theory explains everything but the electrons.'"

It would seem from these few quotations that the natural scientist has already arrived at some concord with the first Christian Scientist, quoted from the textbook: "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance in matter." There are not lacking signs that he is approaching the tremendous statement that follows, "All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation. From this Mind stem all things. All that we see or know are the manifestations of this Mind, and its ideas in matter, space, and time. This is the universe: 'The universe begins to look more like a great thought than like a great machine.'"

This concept of the universe as a world of pure thought throws a new light on the problems we have encountered in our survey of modern physics. "If the universe is a universe of thought, then its creation must have been an act of thought."

To me these are thrilling statements, given by men whose lives have been spent in efforts to define matter, men who do not through religion but through exploring the vast reaches of the astronomical universe and the invisible, theoretical nature of molecules and electrons, have arrived at their conclusions that all is mental. The Discoverer of Christian Science also teaches that all is mental, but her conclusions were not reached by exhaustive research in matter. Through spiritual inspiration, through prayer and revelation, she realized the impossibility of any reality but that of Spirit and Spirit's reflections.

Science and Health states (p. 469): "Mind is God. . . . There can be but one God, because there is but one Mind; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite." Mortals claim another mind; Paul called it the carnal mind. Mrs. Eddy named it mortal mind. Out of our belief in its reality come all our woes.

Christian Science has revealed the fact that all that really exists is spiritually mental. We always live, always shall live, in a thought world. This is either a supposititious world of confusion, effort, the senses, disease, sin, and death—an unreal world of mortal mind's conceptions externalized in experience—or, as untrue mortal concepts decrease because true divine concepts increase in our thought, it is the real world of Mind's ideas unfolding to us and reflected by us. We have no private mind, no original mind exclusively ours. We are either accepting and reiterating the so-called mortal mind's beliefs, or we are conscious of the one genuine, real, divine Mind and expressing its ideas. Our health, joy, harmony, service, and true success are dependent upon which kind of thinking predominates in our consciousness.

Because our concept of the material world exists only in what we accept as our own consciousness, we can change it. That is the way of salvation pointed out by Christian Science. It is a way of definite right thinking. We must think our way into health, goodness, peace, heaven. Mrs. Eddy's works are full of instructions for right thinking. In one place she says (Science and Health, p. 400): "By lifting thought above error, or disease, and contending persistently for truth, you destroy error."

A few years ago I had a little experience that illustrated that statement in a way that has since been helpful to me. We took a plane, on a dark rainy day, in one great city to fly to another country. At once the pilot went up through a huge white cloud into blinding sunshine and we rode above the thick whiteness all the way to our destination. The darkness and gloom were not present to us, nor known or experienced by us. When we reached the city to which we were going, the plane descended through the cloud and there too, in that country, it was dark and rainy. By lifting ourselves above darkness into the light which was always there we had removed the darkness from our experience, and until we voluntarily returned to it, it did not exist for us. To those who had remained where the darkness was, it had been gloomy all day.

All the way on that trip I was thinking of the statement just quoted about lifting thought above error and disease. We had done that physically in the plane, and the result was light. So if in our human experience we lift thinking deliberately, persistently, vigorously, into the presence of divine Mind and its good and eternal realities, and if we resolutely hold it there and contend for the omnipotence of good, we shall find ourselves increasingly surrounded by the light and radiance of true being. Just as we found that the clouds had not destroyed the sunshine at all but had only hidden it to human sense, so we shall learn that the blinding mists of belief and illusion, apparent as sin, disease, and death, hide being and obscure God and man to human sense, but leave reality unchanged. Being, substance, identity, peace, and love are all permanent. They are untouched. They are indestructible. They are infinitely eternal. All the storms of illusion cannot injure or stop reality. All that is, forever is. All that lives, forever lives. Those are the great truths that the Christian Scientist is trying to see for himself and the world today, difficult as that seems."

Right Thinking for the World Today

No Christian Scientist wants war, any more than any other civilized human being, but he recognizes that there are things even worse than war. He is willing to take any necessary human steps to defend democratic government, freedom to worship God, the right to develop individuality. He knows that none of that is possible under a pagan or totalitarian government. The real Christian Scientist has been trained in the warfare of mental resistance to error in his own consciousness. He loves good more than self, victory over evil more than ease in matter. He is therefore not a pacifist or a defeatist, dreamer or a dupe of propaganda. He stands for Principle and with that which is nearest Principle. He supports right and what is nearest right in human affairs. Whatever advances the salvation of the world is, he is to support.

Everyone here can be praying, knowing daily that no such thing as subtlety, dishonesty, or evil mental manipulation can stupefy, delay, obstruct, separate, or confuse the thinking of the forces of righteousness. Let us know rather that the selfishness of right thinking, the free domination of God-governed thinking, the alert, united, clear thinking that is the activity of Mind, is present, is acting and acting without delay. With the nearest right of earth's peoples, let us be very certain that guidance, wisdom, unity, and the protection of Principle do exist.

We cannot afford to be complacent or apathetic over present-day affairs, but we do know, and it is our constant duty to know, that good is more powerful than all the claims of evil and that it will be proved so. Let us be sure of right's ultimate triumph and be sure, too, that that triumph is not our duty. Evil is our person. It is impersonal belief opposing good. Morals let themselves be agents for evil, representatives of evil, but the real man is never evil. Thus we fight evil in this world situation not as person but as a hideous, so-called force which is bent on opposing and destroying Christianity, individuality, and the understanding of God.

In times of emergency and stress the amazing timeliness, the agelessness of the Bible is more apparent than ever. Thus today we find in its statements, parables and stories that are as applicable as though they were written for the occasion. How reassuring to our loved ones and to ourselves are the following words from Psalm: "Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident. 'The angel of the Lord encampeth about them that fear him, and delivereth them.' 'The Lord will give strength unto his people; the Lord will bless his people with peace.'"

Although written many hundreds of years before our being, the words of today, how thrilling is Isaiah's verse as we think of our airplane protectors: "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem."

lem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it!"

The Christian Science soldier never for one minute believes that he can demonstrate more selfless heroism, more splendid service, than thousands of others have done and are doing. But knowing that God is omnipotence, that right is inevitably might, that no real good can be destroyed, that the claim of evil is never triumphant permanently and will be totally destroyed eventually, he goes forth with high courage and trust in God. Paul says, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong." Obeying that in trust and activity, we can each one of us say, "Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory."

The Discoverer and Founder

For almost seventy years the Christian Science textbook has been proclaiming to the world the unreality of matter, the like unreality of evil, and the fact that we can attain the victory over their apparent existence. That, in the face of accepted belief and human experience, one New Hampshire woman should have grasped that stupendous fact seems amazing! Mary Baker Eddy, member of a religious family and extremely spiritually-minded herself, pursued for years a ceaseless quest for Truth. She studied Jesus' healings, works, words, and when, through application of that study she healed herself and others, she unreservedly gave her life and entire consecration to writing, teaching, and further investigation of the spiritual law she had discovered. She was the Scientist who discovered Christian Science.

Jesus, the Founder of Christianity, and his faithful follower, the Founder of Christian Science, have both given us marvelous examples of the way spiritual progress, the renunciation of materiality, works out human salvation, from limitation, sin, sickness, and death. From Jesus' first miracle to that unparalleled demonstration we call the ascension—that mental rising above matter to its true position in consciousness—his demonstration of understanding progressively unfolded. The history of the Discoverer of Christian Science is also a wonderful illustration of progressive unfolding of good as the result of knowledge and serving God better. From the little group of early listeners to the great Extension of The Mother Church—what steady increase of vision!

Mrs. Eddy saw her Church established, her followers numbered by thousands, and their healings, through application of her teachings, by tens of thousand, and the reason for it all she concisely states on page ix of the Preface to the textbook, where, speaking of herself, she says: "To-day, though rejoicing in some progress, she still finds herself a willing disciple at the heavenly gate, waiting for the Mind of Christ. It was this Christ, this eternal activity of good, that Jesus so clearly knew and so effectively utilized in his marvellous healing ministry. It is that same Christ, that same divine idea, which was recognized and applied by Mrs. Eddy and is here today for us to employ. Of it Jesus said, 'Before Abraham was, I [the Christ, Truth] am.'"

Mrs. Eddy's work as Discoverer might be said to be particularly recorded in Science and Health, and her work as Founder and Leader to be specifically embodied in the Church Manual. The Rules and By-Laws of that book provide for the many different activities of Christian Science movement—church services, practitioners, teachers, Sunday schools, Reading Rooms, lectures, and many other means of service to community, individual, and world.

The inquirer about Christian Science—and we were all that once—can, in most any size field, find a Christian Science Reading Room where he may study, buy, or borrow Mrs. Eddy's works and other authorized publications. These publications include the Christian Science periodicals, all of which were founded and their purpose outlined by Mrs. Eddy.

She defines "Church," in part, in the textbook (p. 383) as "the structure of Truth and Love." That true Church, that reality of Church in consciousness, is but symbolized and typified by the human organization. The more truly the members of a branch Church of Christ, Scientist, are bringing out in their lives the Christ qualities, the more they are holding in thought the truth about man, the reality of abundance, the presence of Love, the more active, alert, prosperous, and loving will be their branch of The Mother Church, and the more its one object of healing sin and disease will be accomplished.

Supply Undiminished

Almost the whole world is filled, just at present, with apprehension, vague or acute, as to business security or as to any business at all! In the absolute fact of being we know that man is God's expression. Then his one business is expressing God. God is the source of supply. Then supply is always adequate, always present, forever undiminished. Someone may ask, What if those are the spiritual facts of being; how does that help me today to see my needs met? That is a legitimate question. That is just what Christian Science teaches—how to relate the facts of eternal reality to this troubled human experience. This is certain: no man in wartime or peacetime will long remain unemployed, unsupplied, fear-filled, or discouraged, if every minute he is expressing trust in God, integrity, industry, efficiency, and resourcefulness. If every minute he is knowing the presence in true

Wartime Inventors Can Be Peacetime Aids States Dr. Ell

"The invention and design which are now being used for destructive purposes can be turned to peacetime production," declared Pres. Carl S. Ell of Northeastern University in the commencement address before the graduating class of the Waltham High School in the Embassy Theatre, Waltham, on Thursday morning, June 3.

"The coming era can be what some have already called the 'Coming Golden Age' and 'The Century of the Common Man,'" he said. Dr. Ell's subject was "The Road Ahead."

The Northeastern president told the graduates, their parents, relatives and friends, that "we now have a world geared and equipped to produce goods far beyond anything ever known in the world before. If we keep our machines running, our industries busy, the wealth produced can overcome the huge debt created by the war."

"It can be done by a nation of people bent upon reasonable freedom of enterprise and initiative and a willingness to work."

"Already we have within our grasp: wood that will not burn; glass that will bend and will float; clothes from milk; rubber that is transparent; air-conditioning for even modest homes; automobiles from unlimited supplies of plastics, aluminum and glass; and a vast, yet undeveloped, industry in dehydrated milk, vegetables and fruits."

Dr. Ell said, "with a world needing to be rebuilt, a world starved for food, for clothing, and for shelter, America can be a veritable Garden of Eden. It will be a fertile field for ideas."

"It was only an idea that Alexander Graham Bell had—an idea that the human voice could be carried over a wire. Now we have the telephone and the gigantic American Telephone and Telegraph Co. It was only an idea that Dr. Langley and the Wright Bros. had—an idea that men could fly through space in a heavier-than-air machine. Now airplanes circle the globe. It was only an idea in the head of Goodyear that rubber could be vulcanized that formed the basis of the great rubber industry."

In conclusion the Northeastern president told the graduates, "you will need courage, fortitude, determination, and persistence. Some of you will find the early fruition of your dreams; but for others and for most of you it will be a long, hard, uphill climb."

Five 4H Clubs In Annual Meeting

Five 4 H Clubs meeting at the Rebecca Pomroy House, Newton Community Chest Agency, held their annual exhibition and demonstrations during the past week.

The leaders under whom these girls have learned to sew and to do practical cooking are Miss Edith Jalonen, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. Kenneth Brennan, Mrs. Elsa Ferdiani and Mrs. Rose Mason.

Very good looking garments which will be worn by the members this summer and delicious muffins and salads were brought in by the girls to be judged. The blue ribbon winners were the Misses Ann Athy and Frances Dorsey in Mrs. Brennan's Sewing Club; Ann Hoban in Miss Jalonen's sewing group; Eleanor Aiello, Mary McArdle, Virginia Sanguenetti, Joanne Nichols and Jennie Tocci made an unusual record, each girl in the club winning a blue ribbon for her salad. This is Mrs. Kennedy's group. Elvira Costa and Mary Ann Merrill of Mrs. Mason's cooking club and Virginia Neville, Doris Frediani and Virginia Fahey in Mrs. Frediani's cooking classes won blue ribbons for their muffins.

Three clubs received banners for having the same number of girls finish and exhibit as had started with the group at the beginning of the club. These were girls of Mrs. Brennan, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Frediani.

Others participating were Phyllis Perkins, Patricia Boughan, Barbara Gee, Mary Blanchard, Rose Antonelli, Asunta Tramonozzi, Joan Lallmand, Barbara McGrath, Clare Duggan, Jean Cox, Mary Cox, Peggy Hugh, Mary Akins.

Miss Elizabeth Hopkins, County 4 H Agent of the Extension Service of the Massachusetts College of Agriculture, judged the articles and presented the awards.

A goodly number of mothers came to the exhibition to see their daughters' work and the progress the girls have made during the last winter.

During part of the program, all joined in group singing.

With millions of men and women in the services it will require a lot of War Bond buying on our part to keep them happy.

What You Buy With

WAR BONDS

Wigwag

Frequently the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Signal Corps find it expedient to relay messages without benefit of telephone, telegraph or radio. That is when the wigwag system is employed.

Like a single flag in the "Wigwag" system, the purchase of a War Savings Stamp or Bond, in itself has an infinitesimal effect upon the entire war effort, but when 130 million determined people set their minds to make our War Bond drives successful, the result is anything but infinitesimal. U. S. Treasury Department

R. CLYDE YARBROUGH CALLED TO WEST NEWTON CHURCH

The Second Church in Newton
has called to its pulpit the Rev.
R. Clyde Yarbrough from the faculty of the Andover Newton Theological School.

DR. R. CLYDE YARBROUGH

ological School, Newton Centre, Massachusetts.

The Second Church in Newton
has a membership in the Newtons and surrounding towns of about eighteen hundred persons. It was established and the first building completed in 1764. A wooden church building of colonial type was built in 1848 on Washington st., West Newton, and was occupied until October 1, 1916 when the present stone church of Gothic architecture was completed at the corner of Highland and Margin sts., West Newton.

Since the organization of The Second Church, its pulpit has been occupied by only eight ministers for unusually long periods:

Rev. William Greenough—Ordained, Nov. 8, 1781—Deceased,
Nov. 10, 1831.

Rev. Lyman Gilbert, D.D.—Ordained, July 2, 1828—Resigned, Jan. 2, 1856.

Rev. Joseph P. Drummond—
Ordained, Jan. 2, 1856—Resigned,
Nov. 12, 1857.

Rev. George B. Little—Installed
Nov. 12, 1857—Deceased, July 20, 1860.

Rev. Henry J. Patrick, D.D.—Installed Sept. 26, 1860—resigned
Sept. 29, 1893.

Rev. Theodore P. Prudden, D.D.
—Installed, April 17, 1894—Resigned Dec. 30, 1906.

Rev. J. Edgar Park, D.D.—Installed Dec. 12, 1907—Resigned
Oct. 4, 1926.

Rev. Boynton Merrill—Installed
Oct. 26, 1927—Resigned, Jan. 31, 1943.

Under the ministry of Dr. Merrill, who has resigned to accept the call to become the minister of The First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio, the church grew in membership from one thousand to eighteen hundred persons. Under his ministry also the Children's Chapel and the Minister's Study were added to the church building, and in 1935 the Educational Building, integral with and completing the original architectural scheme of the church, was built.

The religious education program,
the organization of the Church School, which now has a membership of about six hundred, the young people's activities, and their coordination with the services and other activities of the Church have been developed during the last six years by the Rev. Frank Grebe, who has recently resigned to become the Associate Minister of the Westminster Church of Buffalo, N. Y.

The Rev. R. Clyde Yarbrough who has now assumed this ministry is a native of Fort Worth, Texas, where he was born February 11, 1907. He attended Texas Christian University from which he was graduated Summa Cum Laude in 1932. He then entered Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and after completing three years' work there took the final year of his theological course at the Yale University Divinity School from which he was graduated in 1936 with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

During this period he also studied at the Yale University School of the Drama. Subsequently he started at the Teacher's College, Columbia University from which he received the Master of Arts degree in Education in 1938. In 1942 he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the State University of Iowa in Rhetoric and Public Speaking. During his educational career he has also held pastorates in Texas and New York City. He has been active in religious education and young people's activities including dramatics. He has taught at the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Connecticut, and at the Epis-

WARNS OF "OVER-PLANNING" ON POST-WAR HOME BUILDING

Current planning on homes and housing that is focused on centralized organization, Congressional action and Federal agencies carries the danger of impeding the war effort, Northeastern Homes Foundation warns, in clarifying the position of the building industry interests it represents on the many postwar plans now in the news.

"The easiest way in planning for post-war building is to turn about from independent individualism in business and look to Washington. Get Congress to pass a law. Set up another Federal agency. This has become a familiar process. But it is not the process that has made the building industry the institution it is today.

"Right now the Federal Government has a war to win. This is why Northeastern Homes Foundation, in planning for postwar building, is seeking only to promote local committees for localized planning to provide a "homelcoming" for the returned soldier after the war, and to set up an investment objective, in the form of postwar home ownership and home modernization, for wartime savings. We believe that the morale of our fighting men will be increased by knowledge that postwar homes are being planned for them first of all, and that the average family will be inspired to buy more War Bonds by local plans for their future investment in a home. Planning that goes beyond that now may easily impede the war effort."

Gosh, Pop—the Lone Ranger right in our living room!

When the lights go on again all over the world, the lights will go out in your living room.

And you'll sit in fascination before a new miracle. Television!

Just a flick of the switch, a turn of the dial — and you're at a ball game, or a front row seat at the follies. You can bring the whole world into your home.

But the engineers who will create these wonders of tomorrow are working today on the things that will help to win the war. You can help, too, by putting every dollar you can spare into War Bonds and your savings account.

ROTARY CLUB

The speaker at the Rotary meeting last Monday, May 24, was Dr. Theodore H. Wilson, president of the Junior College of the University of Baltimore, who spoke on the general question of "Democracy—the Spirit of Rotary in Action." Dr. Wilson gave a thought-provoking discussion of Democracy which he defined as the Spirit of Rotary in Action and drew a parallel between Democracy and Rotary on five points: (1) Both are based on the individual; (2) both are based on quality of privileges and responsibilities; (3) both are based on the conception that each individual is entitled to his opinions and his occupation without infringement upon others or infringement by others; (4) each reflects an equality of race, color, and creed; (5) both Democracy and Rotary best thrive upon four methods: Acquaintance, ethics, ideals, and understanding. Dr. Wilson said the best description of Democracy was found in the Rotary Code of Ethics, Item 11: The Golden Rule. The objects of Rotary and the Golden Rule are essentially one and the same.

The next meeting, Monday, June 7, will be in charge of Irving Atwood. Two films from Florida have been secured which have been circulating among Rotary Clubs in New England. According to information received from other Clubs that have used these pictures, it is a real treat to view the action in the South during the vacation period.

The Furniture Store That Never Held A "Sale"
—But Saves You 25% to 40% AT ALL Times

The Mayflower Wayside Plan is a new departure in the merchandising of fine furniture. By eliminating an expensive city location; expensive showrooms; high taxes, and the many excessive expenses necessary to the upkeep of a city furniture store, it brings high grade furniture to you at unbelievably low prices.

Shopping For Furniture Is Considered Essential Driving By O.P.A.

The tremendous savings being made here, and the fact that we have on display as complete an assortment of fine furniture of every type as can be found, is bringing us hundreds of customers daily from Boston, and all the town around—and from far away places, too. The story of the Mayflower Plan travels.

You, too, will find that it is not necessary to pay high prices for really fine furniture when you come in and look around.

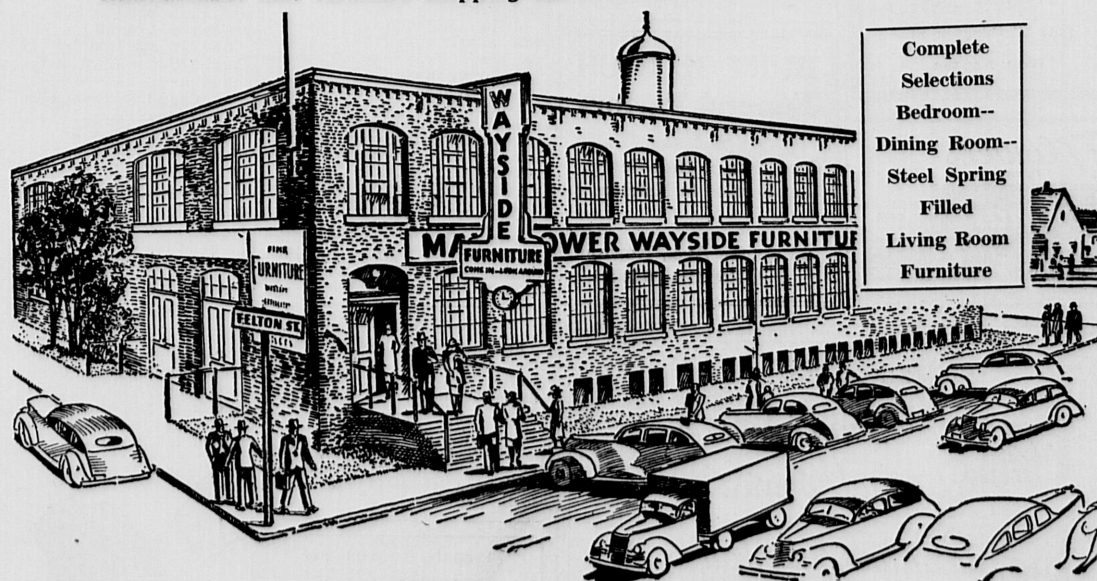

Furniture should be the pride and joy of your home. It will be with you for many, many years. For this reason it should not be purchased hurriedly — you should take plenty of time in your selection. For this reason we are open every evening until 10:30 or for as long as you want to stay.

This, and the fact that Mayflower is easily accessible by auto, bus or train — with our own unlimited parking space — will enable you to bring the entire family to aid in your selection.

Budget terms available.

REMEMBER that furniture shopping has been ruled "essential driving" by O.P.A.

YOUR JOB AT HOME

WHAT with rationing and ceiling prices and point values, shopping during these war days requires more concentration than it ever did before. You've got to learn how to shop all over again.

When the "straight coupon" system of rationing went into effect with sugar and coffee, the homemaker got an idea of what was coming. War Ration Book One was issued, and everybody holding the right coupons gets an equal amount of sugar or coffee during a specified time. Your main concern in shopping under the straight coupon system of rationing is to watch your calendar to be sure you know when a certain coupon is good! And, of course, in the case of coffee, to be careful not to surrender a coupon for some mixture that is part coffee and part adulterant. Your coffee coupon is good for a pound—whether that is a pound of 100 per cent coffee or a mixture that's only part coffee. Watch the label on the package. If the pound isn't all coffee, it must be so marked. And you want all coffee, naturally, because no substitute or mixture can ever taste like real coffee!

But now the "point" rationing system is upon us. That's a method, as you know, of rationing a group of related or similar commodities which can be substituted for one another in actual use. Each commodity in the group has a "point value." And it's part of your job at home to know your point values!

You only have a certain number of points to spend in a certain period. You must get the most for them. If you use 9 points of your point allowance on a few items of high point value, you'll have to get along on less for the rest of the rationing period.

Plan before you buy—budget your coupons as well as dollars.

Kiwanis Activities

Clarence R. Mease, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., which is one of the Newton Community Fund agencies, addressed the Newton Kiwanis Club at their meeting last Tuesday on the subject, "Our World Today and Tomorrow."

Mr. Mease is secretary of the Newton Council for a Better World Order. This Council is conducting a study of this subject and is trying to interest the people of Newton and surrounding cities in this important question—perhaps in many respects the most important question today. Mr. Mease said that this subject should and must be given consideration now. He said that even small groups were very influential because the kind of a world that will develop when the fighting is over will probably be dictated by the attitude of the American common people. Other nations of the world are looking to America. We are today world leaders and as such have a great responsibility.

Mr. Mease spoke of the fact that there were practically no isolationists today, that it was now recognized that should America, when the present war ends, adopt a selfish isolationist attitude of looking after our own immediate welfare and neglect others, we would simply sow the seeds for another war in which we would possibly be on the losing side. On the other hand Mr. Mease said that in considering the peace situation from the standpoint of the world as a whole we must not destroy the love of country.

Mr. Mease believes that peace will be dictated finally by realistic facts. Questions involved are going to be the problem of feeding the world. Should Americans be rationed on food for some time after the war ceases so that other nations may be fed, or should we eat up all of our own available food and let other nations starve? Manufacturing equipment will be badly needed by many other countries. Should we devote our supply or use it all for ourselves, denying others the opportunity of starting the necessary production to fill their own needs? Our decision on such problems will either lead the countries of the world closer together into a common understanding, or we can drive the world back to extreme nationalism, misunderstandings, lack of confidence between countries, and the building up of a vast hatred for America among other nations.

In addition to the international questions, there are certain questions within the United States which Mr. Mease felt must be settled. These involve:

- A. The future of social security.
- B. How far should we go with a planned economy?
- C. Our social and ethical training.

Mr. Mease felt that in this we have been coasting for a long time and have not been building for the future particularly in increasing the younger generation. He stressed the importance of maintaining family life, pointing out that when the family disintegrates, so does the nation. Mr. Mease pointed out the importance of maintaining a spiritual background and felt that in this we were coasting and not giving it sufficient emphasis.

President James Riggs announced that a meeting of the Directors of the Newton Kiwanis Club would be held at the Log Cabin Inn in Waltham next Monday night at 6:30.

Raymond Green, principal of the local high school extended an invitation to members and their families to attend the graduation exercises of the Newton High School to be held in the Stadium at 6:30 Saturday evening.

Guests included Mr. U. P. MacKay who was a guest of Archie Belling and Chauncy W. Deacon of the Quincy Kiwanis Club. Mr. Deacon was a guest of Clarence Hutchings.

The musical program was in charge of Jack Janse. A special vocal selection was rendered by Ray Green, George VanBuskirk and Pete Pettingill.

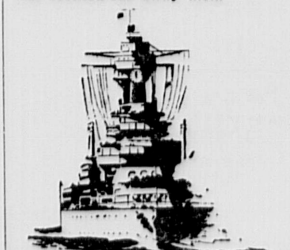

Announcement was made that Lieutenant Commander Dowd, a member of the local club serving in the military service, has now been promoted to full Commander.

Mr. George VanBuskirk announced that sale of defense bonds for the day amounted to $113.00.

Battle Wagons

When Japan attacked at Pearl Harbor we had 17 battleships in service and 15 building. We were making preparations but the war did not wait. These 32 battle wagons cost American taxpayers three billion dollars for a two ocean navy. The war seemed far away then.

Now fifty million Americans have a personal stake in this war. It has been brought home to them. That's why everyone is increasing purchases of War Bonds.

being of abundance, provision, activity, and opportunity, he is expressing right initiative, reliability, intelligence, and helpfulness.

Those are Mind's qualities, and held to and practiced they will bring all necessary good into experience. God's ideas are man's supply, undiminished throughout eternity. Prosperity is a steady realization of the limitlessness of good. Opportunity is a constant aspect of being. It does not knock once and disappear, but is always at the door. So be knowing daily that your capabilities are from God; your supply is spiritual; your business is expressing Principle; your position is that of a son of God, and your occupation is that of witnessing to Mind. Thus your good judgment, confidence, alertness, and undimmed expectancy of good are never less than adequate to every possible occasion.

Today all engaged in business need particularly to guard against tension and strain. They are the results of apprehension, and a sense of personal responsibility. Both result from the belief that we ourselves, aside from omnipotence, have to do something. Active but not rushed, trustworthy but not falsely responsible, "under the shadow of the Almighty" but not under pressure—that is the ideal. The need is never for more matter. The need is for more vision, more receptivity. In reality neither man's possessions nor services are unwanted, restricted, unprofitable. In reality his opportunity, desirability, honesty, intelligence, and capability are not lacking at all. As our realization of our mission as God's expression grows, as our knowledge of our own unlimited provision as a child of God grows, as our understanding of true affluence and limitlessness grows, we shall see progressive unfoldment of good in our affairs.

Salvation from business cares will come with this kind of thinking, in which the sense of service, supply, and ambition will be spiritualized. Income will be seen to be mental, the income of active spiritual ideas into consciousness. Such income is unaffected by shortage, years, inflation or deflation. There is no such thing as financial security. Security for man is in knowing his changeless relation to God. If all this seems impracticable to you, try it. When you find that it works you will realize how completely practical it is! To let Mind shine through us in intelligence, to let Love express itself through us in tenderness and kindness, to let Soul glow through us in joyous radiance, and to let Principle govern our lives, our words, with wisdom, law, and order, means demonstrating true service, right success, and serenity. It depends upon ourselves whether we are content to stay in a consciousness of meanness and limitation or whether we shall rise to divine Mind's boundlessness. In reality, growth, increase, unfoldment, activity, and advancement are simply aspects of God, Life, appearing to consciousness.

This hour that we have spent together can open mental doors to all of us. God does not give sparingly to His children. We can draw gladly upon His infinite font of ideas. In the words of Isaiah, "With joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation." Although truly scientific thinking is clear and logical, embracing no emotionalism, mysticism, or transcendentalism, it is constantly lifting thinking out of matter up to Spirit. This spiritual progress, this healing salvation, will mean for all of us, for all that has been and is dearest to us, more radiant, constant unfolding good. An eternity, an infinity of good awaits our acceptance, our appreciation. It all is now. "That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been," we read in Ecclesiastes.

Today is infinite and eternal Life as unfettered and boundless as we in our present spiritual development of consciousness permit it to be for us. We need not pray for more of God; we need only pray that we may accept, that we may lift our thinking into the grandeur of the free and the illimitable, into complete unity with divine Mind and our own true being and all the good of God. That is the ultimate, that is the object of our spiritual growth, that is salvation attained.

NEWTON LIONS CLUB

The meeting of the Newton Lions Club held at the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday was attended by the District Governors of both the Lions and the Rotary. The occasion was the Official Visit of Rev. Clinton Carvell of North Andover, Governor of District 33-A of Lions International, at which the new Rotary Governor Charles H. Meeker of West Newton was a guest. Governor Meeker brought the felicitations of Rotary and renewed acquaintances with his friend "Clint" Carvell.

The subject of the address by District Governor Carvell was the "Practical Application of the Objectives of Lionism." He explained how Service Clubs such as Kiwanis, Rotary and the Lions form channels for putting into effect the teachings we learn at church. Governor "Clint" told his attentive audience of projects beneficial to the community, developed through the co-operation and continued efforts of Service Club members. He said that having such a goal strengthened a club, contributed to the unity of membership and aided the Nation.

President Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti presided and among others introduced was Deputy District Governor G. Robert Rauch of Arlington, a frequent visitor at the local club.

On behalf of the club, Austin W. Flint, Program Chairman, presented to District Governor Carvell a gift as a memento of the evening.

Discuss Nursing Situation Here

The Newton Committee on Nursing for War Service discussed plans for meeting the serious situation in nursing in Newton.

The quota of nurses for the armed forces from Massachusetts has not as yet been met.

The Newton Hospital is much in need of graduate nurses and the Newton District Nursing Association is also finding it increasingly difficult to fill vacancies on its staff with public health nurses.

More volunteer workers will be needed to help in this emergency. Special courses have been prepared for those women who qualify so that they may be better fitted to meet the varied needs of different nursing organizations.

Below are listed graduates of the Newton Hospital who have left there recently for service in either the army or the navy: the Misses Beatrice Powers, Mary A. Winslow, Ruth Swanson, Ruth Selby, Isabelle Read, Evelyn Gifford, Helen Moore, Marjorie Houghton, Margaret Kueznickas, Claire Barron, Mary E. Lewis, Marion Philpot, Mildred Connors.

These are in addition to the 16 names given recently in another article on this subject.

Miss Elizabeth Sheridan also a graduate of the Newton Hospital left the staff of the Newton District Nursing Association last week to enter the Navy Nurse Corps.

Gas Rationing Makes Local Recreational Facilities Desirable

Newton Fortunate In Having Many Centers For Healthful Exercise and Interest For Citizens Of All Ages

With strict gasoline rationing continuing in prospect for the summer, and nearly every home involved in victory gardening or otherwise hard at work, Newton homes will have to rely increasingly on recreational activities in and about Newton. The Newton Community Council, in cooperation with the Newton Graphic, presents herewith a partial list of activities carried on by various organizations and agencies which are eager to serve the children and families of Newton. In addition, your attention is directed to the advertisements appearing elsewhere in this paper describing opportunities existing in privately sponsored activities. It is suggested that you keep this page for future reference this summer.

SUMMER CAMPS

There are a number of summer camps conducted by social and youth-serving agencies which parents would do well to consider in making plans for their children. In general, there are two kinds of camps: Day Camps, where the child returns home each evening, and Boarding Camps, where the child remains at camp for extended periods of time varying from one week to all summer. Three Newton Community Chest agencies conduct boarding camps—the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Y.M.C.A. Detailed information regarding these camps appears below. The Pomroy House, the West Newton Community Centre and the Girl Scouts conduct day camps.

There are also a number of church organizations and Greater Boston agencies conducting camps to which Newton children are eligible. Suggestions for getting in touch with the sponsoring agencies are set forth below. The Walnut Park Camp for Girls, a new venture this year and located in Newton, merits special attention.

Is Named Summer Minister Here

Rev. McIllyar Hamilton Litchler, D.D., To Head Union Services

The Committee of six churches of Newtonville and West Newton announces with pleasure that the Summer Minister for the union services this summer will be the Rev. McIllyar Hamilton Litchler, D.D.

The services will be held in the Second Church, West Newton, during ing July and in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, during August and on the first Sunday in September. The hour of service will be 10:50 o'clock throughout the summer.

Dr. Litchler is well known to the older members of our churches. From 1919-1924, he was pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Newton in Newtonville and from 1924-1942, he was minister of the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio—the church which Dr. Washington Gladden served for thirty years and which, a few months ago, called Dr. Boynton Merrill to be its minister.

Dr. Litchler is a native of western Pennsylvania, coming from a long line of Methodist preachers. He is a graduate of DePauw University in the class of 1900, with a Master of Arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and honorary degrees from Williams College, Otterbein University, Ohio Wesleyan University and DePauw.

For almost twenty years, Dr. Litchler was a Methodist minister serving important churches in Pittsburgh, Olean, N. Y., St. Louis, Baltimore and Cleveland. In 1919 he entered the fellowship of Congregational Churches and was called to Newtonville.

He specialized in the field of personal counseling and is the author of two books, "The Healing of Souls" and "Pillows of Stone." He has always been active in community affairs and, at one time, President of the Newton Council for Social Agencies.

In July, 1942, having reached the age of retirement and after forty-two years in the parish ministry, he retired from active service. For many years, his vocation had been Freemasonry, and as an Active Member of the Supreme Council of the Thirty-Third Degree, Scottish Rite he was summoned to Boston to give full time to ritual research and revision and to official visitation of Scottish Rite bodies in fifteen northern states.

The cooperating churches and their ministers are as follows: Central Congregational Church—Rev. Randolph S. Merrill.

Letters To The Editor

280 Highland Avenue,
West Newton, Mass.,
May 21, 1943

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC: Some time ago you were kind enough to publish a letter of mine which attempted to satirize the dog situation in Newton. Either my satire was inept, or the people of Newton who are most grievously troubled by a great and growing public nuisance could not or would not respond. At any rate, the great number of Newtonites who are every day annoyed, inconvenienced or terrorized, or whose property is overrun and damaged by the canine plague have not, so far as I know, taken any concerted steps to protect themselves.

When I say "annoyed, and inconvenienced and their property damaged" I mean exactly that. Dogs of all sizes roam the streets and private property of Newton without any restraint either from their owners or the city authorities. The list includes Great Danes, German shepherds, chows, St. Bernards and Newfoundlanders, among those which are so large that they strike terror into many women and children. There are pestmen in Newton who do not dare to admit the truth (since they fear that it might endanger their jobs) and at times they cannot even approach houses to deliver mail matter because of the threatening attitude of hounds following them along the street.

Every day yelping or howling beasts snap at the heels of pedestrians who dare to walk through streets where they are not recognized by the dogs. All over Newton people on bicycles are assailed by furiously barking canines. Newsboys in particular constantly have a difficult time in riding along the streets. There are many women in Newton who do not dare to walk a block from their homes because of their fear of hounds big enough to knock them down.

Most of the dog owners of Newton, except those few exceptional citizens who have the unusual courtesy to keep their animals within bounds, will say that it is a simple matter to telephone the owners when one is bothered. Let me say very definitely that the result of all such calls is the same. The owner promises very cordially to control his or her dog—then nothing happens. The very day that a postman was so beleaguered by a pack of threatening beasts that he had to be rescued by a householder, the owner of the largest animal, a German shepherd, expressed great regret and promised to control him. All the rest of the day the dog continued to assail every stranger that dared to pass through the street.

It is a favorite practice of many Newtonites to darken their houses by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Foss, who is the best man for his son.

Mrs. Foss is a graduate of the Newton High School and has been affiliated with Wellesley College. Lieut. Foss, also a graduate of the Newton High School, attended Northeastern University. He has been stationed in Alaska. Lt. and Mrs. Foss left on a wedding trip to Seattle, Washington.

With her two-piece suit of rose pastel, the bride wore a white hat and shoulder length veil and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white flowers and pink rosebuds. Miss Pauline Lewis, R. N., of East Orange, N. J., was the maid of honor. She wore blue and carried an old fashioned bouquet of bachelor buttons. Horace Stuart, of West Newton, was the best man.

The bride graduated from Seton Hall School, N. J., and the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia. Mr. Stuart graduated from the Newton High School and was a member of the State Guard, where he won several trophies and medals as a marksman. He is now an instructor in gunnery at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart will live in Philadelphia.

Miss Annette Yanco and Irving Feldman, Yeoman, Second Class, U. S. N., were married at Temple Ohabei Shalom, Brookline, by Rabbi Samuel Abrams on May 23. The four o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yanco of 222 Pearl st., Newton.

Mrs. Samuel Pass of Newton was the matron of honor for her sister and Jack Feldman, of Amsterdam, N. Y., was the best man for his brother.

The bride graduated from the Newton High School and from the Hickox Secretarial School, where she later held a position as secretary. Yeoman Feldman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Feldman, attended Amsterdam, N. Y., schools and the American International College. through people to destroy the very foundation of true Christianity.

A. Warren Norton, Manager of The Christian Science Publishing Society, reported an increase in the circulation of all Christian Science publications, including "The Christian Science Monitor." State, provincial and national legislative bodies were shown to have dealt fairly with Christian Science activities in the statement of Arthur W. Eckman, Manager of Committees on Publication. There are now fourteen chaplains of our denomination serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, he said; thirteen in the Army and one in the Navy. He pointed out that fifteen vacancies in the Army remained to be filled.

Other reports revealed a continuing advance of religious education despite the exigencies of war. The Christian Science Board of Lectureship found that the purpose of its new regional system of allocating lecturers to serve the churches more acceptably and to reduce the need for travel has been fulfilled in gratifying measure. Where lecturers have not been able to appear personally in some countries because of war, authorized lectures have been read to the audiences, it was said.

From the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy came the report that since the year 1913 when the Trustees were first appointed, they have expended $6,400,000 on church work. Announcement was also made that the sales of Mrs. Eddy's works, including "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," had more than doubled in the last two years.

The Directors announced the election of Mrs. Daisette D. S. McKenzie of Cambridge, Massachusetts, as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Mrs. Elisabeth F. Norwood, of Brookline, Massachusetts.

The new President first became interested in Christian Science in 1887 during the very early days of the movement. Hence, Mrs. McKenzie became instrumental in the pioneering of this religion in the city of Cleveland. She served ultimately as Reader in the Church of Christ, Scientist, Cleveland, and as a member of its board of directors. In 1898 both Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were called by Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, to become members of her last class taught in November of that year.

The retiring President pointed out that it is not people who are waging the present world working but "forces of evil working."

KEEP THEM!

WAR BONDS are the world's best investment. Buy them and keep them—don't cash them! Don't be fooled into selling your War Bonds for something sold to be better. You have the best! Swindlers may try to induce you to cash your Bonds in order to put your money into their schemes. "Before You Invest, Investigate," — but War Bonds need no investigation. Notify us of any scheme wherein you are urged to cash your Bonds in order to give the money to somebody else. Be Patriotic and wise—KEEP YOUR BONDS. NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Urged To Loan Rifles To State Guard Unit Here

Citizens of Newton who own 30-caliber army-type rifles are urged to lend them to the local company of the State Guard, Company C, 23rd Infantry. The company is equipped with shotguns and Thompson sub-machine guns but frequently finds need for rifles which can be used by firing squads at military funerals or memorial exercises, and for use in training. Any pieces loaned will be kept in good condition by trained armors and returned to the owners at the end of the war. They may be left at the West Newton Armory any evening except Saturday or Sunday or can be called for at the residences of the owners. A receipt will be issued bearing the number and description of the rifle. Capt. Thomas J. Hennessey, company commander, in issuing this appeal, feels that there may be many public-spirited people in Newton who own such equipment. SGT. EDWARD P. BOULTER, Publicity

Two $5 Awards For First Corn And Ripe Tomatoes

1171 Washington Street, West Newton, Mass., June 15, 1943

The following letter was mailed to Mr. Wilson of the Recreation Department by the Carley Realty Company:

Mr. F. Ewing Wilson, Commissioner, City of Newton Recreation Department, City Hall, Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Confirming my conversation with you today and to show my appreciation of the splendid job you have done in making Victory Garden plots available to Newton citizens, I am offering a reward of $5 for the first dozen ears of table corn and $5 for the first five pounds of ripe tomatoes delivered to me at my office, 1171 Washington st., West Newton, with an affidavit from you or some one in your department to the effect that they were produced on a city of Newton Victory Garden plot.

This contest is open to anyone who will register with you or with me in writing or by phone on or before June 30th that they intend to compete, giving the number of their plot and the location of the garden.

Yours very truly, CARLEY REALTY, By: Doris Carley

P. S. I suppose the responsibility of handling these Victory Gardens was placed on your shoulders because the city parks are under your jurisdiction but I can tell you from experience that the planting and care of a garden definitely do NOT come under the RECREATION but just plain hard work.

—Mrs. Earle C. Adams of 44 Hull st., and her husband, Lieut. (Junior Grade) Adams, U. S. N., have been spending a few days at the fashionable Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York City.

The Coming of Machines to Persia

is bound to take its toll with hand-woven rugs. After the war, we doubt that a Persian who has become accustomed to machine work will be willing to work for years with his hands on a rug to sell it in this country for one hundred dollars or less.

If you need a Persian Rug, buy it now while they are within reasonable limits in price, but do not buy ANY hand-woven rug simply because it was made in Persia. There is a distinction to be made. There are some that were woven as they were a hundred years ago without any modern influences. Others are especially made for the American trade.

You can be assured that rugs you buy from us, whatever the price, are rugs that measure up to all the standards of fine Persian Rugs.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

There was no assembly at the Frank A. Day School on Friday last. However, during the afternoon about one hundred and fifty boys and girls attended the Ninth Grade Farewell Dance, sponsored by an Eighth Grade group. Dance music was furnished by Joe Beauregard and his orchestra. The following were awarded Defense stamps as prizes: Elimination Dance, Laurence Odense and Marilyn Welsh; Lucky Ticket, Joyce Jones and Donald Cox; Spot Dance, Barbara Stevenson and Jack Yanoff.

The War Bond total last Thursday was $255.50 with one more week to go.

At the final meeting of the Producers' Club Carol Clark was elected President; Sylvia Tower, vice-president and Alfred Viaco, Secretary for 1943-44. The present club has rendered valuable service to the school this year in the showing of moving pictures.

Last Friday the Day School orchestra journeyed to the Stearns School to give a musical presentation to the pupils there.

The following girls still remain in the Spring Tournament: Norma Simmons and Connie Cleveland in the quarter finals and Mary Bigelow, Betty Chase, Sue Gill, and Loretta Bianchi.

We were pleased to hear that our Principal, Captain Burkhard, U. S. A., has been assigned to administer the new Specialized Film Service with permanent quarters in New York. After it is organized it will mean some travel for film libraries to be established all over the globe. He says the job looks very interesting for the merchandise is instructional and does not compete with anything else. It also means many field contacts with soldiers.

NEWTONVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB

The final social event of the season given by the Newtonville Woman's Club was the colorful and impressive pageant, "United We Serve" which took place in the Newton High School auditorium Friday evening, June 11th.

The pageant which included a cast of more than one hundred twenty five people, was written and directed by Mrs. Henry Williams Inman, assisted by Mr. Leicester Inman, and arranged by members of the club under the leadership of Mrs. George Whitehead, chairman of Ways and Means and her committee.

Those participating were club members, Newton Service organizations, church groups, members of the American Legion and Girl and Boy Scouts, assisted by a group of Troop 28 girl scouts in a dance, trained by their leader, Mrs. A. S. Geiger, accompanied by Mrs. Karl Gevinger.

Soloists for the evening included Franklin Field, Virginia Sandler and Helen Studinski Sibley, violinist, and Grace Warner Guleson, pianist, and accompanist, who had written a special theme song "United We Serve" for the Pageant.

Artists appearing on the program were Priscilla Abbott, Ballerina; Aimee Burpee Whistler; Mrs. George W. Van Gorder, Mrs. Harold Gray, and Mrs. Wm. R. Sladen. The narrator for the Pageant was Rev. Randolph Merrill, pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. The proceeds will be used for nursing scholarships and other club philanthropies.

Honor guests of the evening were Mrs. Herbert F. French, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Alden H. Spear, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, who were introduced by Miss Estelle G. Marsh, president of the club.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

ANOTHER DOCUMENTED PROOF is added to the large evidence that Westbrook Pegler, $65,000 a year hired columnist of the Scripps-Howard press, has been lying in his almost daily sneers against the working people of America. One hundred and twenty papers publish Pegler daily; some 8,000,000 Americans are supposed to read him. Only a few thousand know that Pegler has frequently been proven guilty of lying, and that when he does not lie he employs distortion, exaggeration, isolated instances, and half truths which are worse than lies.

The labor unions which have the greatest record for heroism in this war are the maritime unions. They have given 4000 lives. The proportion of dead in the maritime unions is many times as great as the proportion in any service including fighting and bombing airplanes, submarines, Marines, infantry, etc. Some union members have survived nine torpedoings, but it is because they know they are in the front line fighting Fascism that they stick to their job although it is more dangerous than anything in the armed services. Pegler has devoted dozens of his columns to smearing the National Maritime Union of which Joe Curran is president. On May 10 Pegler published one of his most vicious attacks. He accused Curran of seeking to determine the wages of high wages for maritime workers, etc. And now Curran, who charges Pegler with falsehoods, asks the World-Telegram and more than 100 other newspapers which printed the falsehood to print the truth. Curran wrote Pegler:

"I did not ask for deferment. It is my personal feeling that I would be more useful at sea. My board, however, felt that the job of keeping our merchant ships manned required my presence ashore."

"You state that our messboys 'grab' $100 per week from the government. This is not true. The true fact is that the messmen, as well as all unlicensed messengers, make a profit of $26,974.176 for 80 trips to the Red Sea and Persian Gulf with Lend-Lease supplies. . . .

"You omit. . . the fact that no ship in our jurisdiction has been delayed from sailing since Pearl Harbor. . . .

"You omit the fact that our 'civilian crews' have to maintain with their $33 average earnings a family ashore, buy their clothes, pay their taxes, and save enough money to live during their unemployed season. . . .

"Under the rules of a free press, of course, these facts would be used to answer the attack you made upon me. . . . One of your admirers said if given the facts you would present them. Here they are."

STRAW IN THE WIND: Rumors that Germany has been deporting labor which it cannot utilize in the Reich because of raw material shortages, but which it fears to leave free to aid the Allies in Belgium, is borne out by reports that workers in Germany have nothing to do. Men, requisitioned from Bavaria, Ost-Bavaria, and Lembeck in Eastern Flanders were sent to a concentration camp at Elsenborn. A few escaped, and returning home reported that they were idle during their entire time there.

IN THE COURSE OF the past year the fighting alliance of Great Britain and the USSR formed the object of numerous attacks of Hitlerite propaganda and diplomacy, which tried to drive a wedge between the participants of the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition. In the past few months this found its expression, in the first place, in the fact that in the fascist camp they began to speak with increasing frequency about peace. To judge by the reports of the foreign press, the Germans would like to obtain peace with Britain and the United States on the condition that they draw away from the USSR, or else on condition that it draw away from Great Britain and the U. S. A.

However, this time, too, the machinations of the perfidious German imperialists met with utter collapse. The members of the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition are filled with determination to jointly bring their cause to conclusion—to the utter defeat of Hitlerite Germany and her associates in Europe, which constitutes the only way toward a true and stable peace.

DECISIVE BATTLES ARE COMING. The outcome of these battles does not and cannot cause any doubt. Victory will be ours. Joint powerful blows from the East and West will crush and destroy Hitlerite Germany with her dark, mediaeval barbarity and oppression, so hateful to all freedom-loving peoples.

The Misses Allen are making arrangements for opening a select school for girls and young ladies in their beautiful home on Vernon st., in September. A school of this character has long been needed in this end of the city.

The first meeting of the Newton Co-operative Bank was held Tuesday, June 12, at the office of Davis & Colt, Boston. The bank was organized, by-laws adopted and the following officers elected. Pres. Francis A. Dewson, vice president Edwin W. Gay; secretary, J. Cheever Fuller; treasurer, Wm. E. Elder; directors, J. Edward Hollis, J. W. French, H. E. Bothfield, Austin R. Mitchell, Chas. S. Keene, Thos. B. Fitz, C. William Carter, Walter M. Jackson, John F. Heckman.

The bank will open for business the first week in July.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 15, 1893
The letter carriers of the State formed an association at the U. S. Hotel, Boston, last Saturday and enjoyed a dinner at which carriers James Dunn and P. R. Mulen of Newton were respectively president and secretary. The temporary association was afterwards made permanent. The credit of the organization is due to the Newton carriers, who started the plan and carried it through all the arrangements. Every city in the State was represented among the 93 present at the dinner.

The Hickory Wheel Co. is to be moved to South Framingham, the Columbia company having bought the Para Rubber Shoe Company's plant.

George Gibson for some time employed at the Newtonville depot, has accepted a position at the postoffice.

The Allen swimming school (West Newton) will be open for the season June 17.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 14, 1918
15 graduates of the Newton Vocational High School received diplomas at the graduation exercises held in the school hall at Newtonville last Wednesday. On Friday a class of 112 will receive diplomas from the Technical High School. Exercises of the graduating class of the Classical High School will take place on Saturday afternoon when 150 will receive diplomas.

Interesting exercises were held last Sunday at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, when a service flag bearing 160 stars, representing that number of parishioners now in government service, was unfurled outside the church in the presence of several hundred people.

HEADS COMMITTEE

Mrs. Phister Cowin heads the committee of the Greater Boston Civilian Committee for Procurement of Women for the Armed Forces which was organized at a luncheon meeting at the Women's City Club in Boston last week. Other Newton members are Mrs. John E. P. Hill, secretary and Mrs. John E. Eaton, Jr., representing the Boston Wellesley College club.

This special committee of 25 women has been selected from the leading women's groups of Greater Boston to speed the enlistment of women in the WAACS, WAVES, SPARS and MARINES.

Washington—Winston Churchill's statement to Congress that the United States and Britain are committed to the "experiment" "that air power can win the war" is recognition of that small band of "visionary screwball" airmen who for years fought for the right to prove their point.

Major General Ira C. Eaker, Commander of the U. S. Air Force and Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris, head of the R. A. F.'s bomber command, two of the most famous "visionary screwballs" are to be in charge of operations.

Both know their surface strategy, theories of logistics and tactics as well as any of the high military and naval men who belittled their efforts. Moreover, both were military men before they became airmen.

Washington observers predict that the most significant change in the strategy of the war can be expected. These predictions are based on scientific calculation by industrial experts who estimate that 250,000 tons of bombs will reduce Germany's industrial capacity to the point where she cannot continue to fight.

And although this is a new form of warfare (the Nazis hit London during a year of blitz with only 8,000 tons) the proof of its effectiveness was illustrated when Dortmund, one of Germany's greatest ports, was nearly ruined by Allied airmen who hit it with 2000 tons of bombs during a one hour raid.

The Churchill statement, undoubtedly concurred in by the President, gives us hope that, regardless of whether bombs alone can knock out Germany the experiment can't but shorten the war and reduce our human casualties to a minimum. On these points brass hats agree.

We are grateful for the appreciation of newspaper service expressed by OPA Administrator Brown for the assistance rendered by newspapers "above and beyond the call of duty."

The response of both daily and weekly newspapers, whenever our government agency has asked for assistance has been instant and affirmative. The sale of war bonds was put over the top by newspapers; so was the scrap drive and the whole rationing program. All this and more was gladly given by American publishers without hesitation to cost or potential revenue—and without stint.

The other side of the picture and one that we can't understand is the opposition by certain politicians and large dailies to the display of space in small newspapers by the Government. The cost of such space buying over a period of a year would be but a fraction of the cost of running Elmer Davis' vast O. W. I. set up for many months and it would help many small weeklies, now on the verge of bankruptcy, to continue serving their Government.

Not exactly a crime when you consider that newspaper publishers are the only ones in this war-ridden world who contribute to the war effort, yet are not remunerated—or expected to be—for their time, material or effort.

Incidentally, propaganda material sent out by the O. W. I. has been fanned up considerably since the attack story put the country on edge for a month. Under Elmer Davis the O. W. I. has a lot of high priced talent. And although most of these men earned a great deal more in private life, many of them are now in the service, and their critics rate their activities no bargain at any price. Their friends, however, feel that Uncle Sam is getting a million dollars worth of service for a song.

Stories are fed to more than 2000 daily newspapers, 1375 foreign language publications, 2000 factory give-aways and 5000 weekly newspapers.

Of course the important releases are used but there is a great deal of material released of which only perhaps ten per cent is published.

Overseas, OWI has 21 short-wave transmitters sending out news 24 hours a day in a score of languages.

Now, in only a little over a year the Office of War Information has grown to top-drawer importance.

From the Polish underground comes a copy of the new labor laws governing "absenteeism" as they apply to Poles employed in German war plants.

For being absent from their work for one day, and for changing their place of work without notification there is the penalty of death. It is carried out on the spot.

It is forbidden to be ill no longer than three days for internal complaints and for seven days in the case of operations. If the worker does not recover within this time he is killed.

On a day 300 sick people remained in the plant. The Germans decided that this was too much. Every tenth person was shot. The men who were left were ordered to take a good look at their dead comrades. They were told the same fate would meet everybody who did not appear for work.

France is freed. . . . There can be no doubt that both leaders are laying the foundation for a British-American understanding on post-war policies. . . . As a result of his meeting with Winston Churchill the Duke of Windsor may visit England soon. The ex-King has not set foot there since he gave up the throne. . . . Washington is closely studying Germany's industrial cartels. That they will be smashed along with the Nazi military machine goes without saying. . . . Expect a slight reduction in your coal bills early in June. OPA ruling that dealers must reduce prices in accordance with reduction in R. R. freight rates on coal. . . . A demand for at least 20,000,000 new automobiles is expected from the efforts of the building boom lasting 10 years to meet demands for new houses. . . . There is talk of an approaching farm-labor surplus, an about face from the situation responsible for farm draft desertion and the prospective calling of fathers. . . . Unless revised, as many as 1,000,000 fathers in cities will be drafted while nearly 2,000,000 city workers now on farms are drafted although of draft age and without dependents. . . .

LIONS CLUB

Clyde S. Casady, Executive Secretary of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, was the speaker at the joint meeting of the Lions Clubs of Waltham, Watertown and Newton which was held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Mr. Casady spoke on the Future for Life Insurance and said that it was his belief that after the war there would again be a tremendous gain in new issues for many of those men in service and their families would have learned of the importance of protection.

Another point which the speaker made was that policyholders need have no fear for the safety of their insurance because the National Life Insurance and Savings Bank Insurance are in a most favorable position due in great measure to the conservative mortality table which is used when formulating rates. This table provides an adequate cushion even during wars and epidemics.

Head-table guests in addition to Mr. Casady were Granville R. Rausch, District Governor-elect of Lions 33-A, who was the convention choice of the three Clubs, Clarence Mease, General Secretary of the Y, President of the Newton Y. M. C. A., and Ralph Sanguinetti, President of the local club who presided, and who had as his guest Francis L. Buswell and Kenneth Carr. The fellowship part of the program was under the direction of Mr. McHugh of West Newton who was assisted by Hagen Edgar and Roland Wells of Watertown.

NEWTON TIN CAN COLLECTION

In spite of a drastic cut in its gasoline ration the Street Department will endeavor to cooperate with the request of the Salvage Division of the War Production Board in the June collection of tin cans. The work of June 21-25 inclusive will be as follows: Monday, June 21, Wards 3-4, Tuesday, June 22, Ward 6; Wednesday, June 23, Ward 6; Thursday, June 24, Wards 1-7; Friday, June 25, Ward 2. Due to the drastic cut in gasoline only one trip will be made thru any street. If for some reason the cans are overlooked your cooperation is asked in that you will please save the cans for the next collection and not ask for a special collection.

The Salvage Division of the War Production Board announces that with 90 per cent of the tin supply still cut off by war in the Pacific it is of utmost importance that every tin can be prepared and saved rather than thrown out as the dump as so many are at present. In April 1929 tons were shipped to detinning plants from Massachusetts, and it is the belief of the Salvage Division that, in spite of food rationing, equipment can be trebled every month if every tin can was prepared and shipped instead of going to the dump.

The Salvage Division also announced that Massachusetts holds sixth place in national ranking and first place in New England in the collection of fats. There is no satisfactory substitute for the glycerine these fats produce in our war program so it is highly essential that we save our fats and take them to our nearest collector who is our neighborhood meat dealer.

PRAISES EMPLOYEES

"Well done," the two highest words of praise in the Navy, were used by Lieut. (j. g.) Frank Sweeney, U. S. N. R., public relations officer of the 1st Naval District in describing the work of the employees of the Raytheon Production Corporation, 55 Chapel st., Newton, in overcoming absenteeism. At a ceremony held at the plant on Monday afternoon, Lieut. Sweeney related the experiences of the crew of the Atlanta before it was sunk off the coast of Guadalcanal. He congratulated the winners of the banners in the contest for the best attendance. Dr. Paul Weeks, Plant Manager, presented the Banners to the department heads and movies of the "E" Day Ceremony at Waltham were shown.

Lieutenant Hunter, who is a member of the 26th Antisubmarine Wing was awarded the medal on general orders of the Antisubmarine Command signed by Brigadier General Westside T. Larson, commanding. The citation for the medal read, in part, that 2nd Lt. John S. Hunter, Jr., displayed outstanding initiative, resourcefulness, and a high degree of skill under many trying conditions. "Possibility of encountering a hostile submarine type or anti-aircraft fire added to the hazards of these missions," it stated. The citation said that the outstanding service of Lieutenant Hunter "reflects the highest credit on the military forces of the United States."

Mr. James H. Remley, Director of Musical Education in the Newton School Department, spoke at the Brae Burn Country Club to the members of the Newton Rotary Club on the history of modern Jazz music.

Starting with Ragtime, which was introduced by Negro bands and reached its peak of popularity in World War One, the speaker with the aid of phonographic records took up regular Jazz, sweet Jazz, Boogie-Woogie, and so-called "Jive" and "Jam". Basically, all are the same built upon a hypnotic rhythm which acts upon the nervous system, the type of rhythm that "Makes the youngsters tick."

Classical Music moves the heart, Jazz moves the feet, and a combination of the two for the younger generation will keep them out of a musical rut and develop a well-rounded appreciation of music.

Mr. Remley harbors no fears for the younger generation and advocated that parents "give the youngsters a chance."

The speaker was introduced by G. Winthrop Brainerd.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

State Legislature

According to Bill Mullins, political expert of the Boston Herald, no less an authority than Norman MacDonald of Waban, executive director of the Mass. Federation of Taxpayers, is of the opinion that this year's Legislature is one of the best in recent years. I think I may make my own check on that simply because it is hard for me to believe that MacDonald could enthuse very much over a session which gave itself a pay raise without benefit of roll-call. Incidentally, this is the first session in many years during which Norman MacDonald has failed to be a rather important factor. The reason, of course, is known to most of us. This very capable gentleman was drafted for special work with the Public Safety Committee and has been doing yeoman service along with John Wells Farley. Let us hope that Mr. MacDonald will be on deck again when the next session comes along.

Now, a few general comments about the recent session as a whole, prior to some observations regarding our own Newton Representatives, who were very prominent this year and accomplished much. First of all, it seems utterly ridiculous for the Legislature to continue year after year to come up to the last two weeks with some seventy or eighty relatively important matters on the docket, and then to get all hot and bothered in an effort to prorogue on some specific day. This year, after one or two false starts, it was decided to wind up not later than Saturday, June 12 in order that the gentlemen living in the western part of the state could get home for the week-end and not have to return for a brief period on Monday, June 14. What happened? It proved impossible to prorogue late on Friday so they met on Saturday and finally wound up at 3:27 a.m. on Sunday, June 13. In order to avoid legal complications at some later date, they set the clock firmly at 11:40 p.m. on Saturday and held it there for the next three and a half hours! That reminds me of the ostrich.

The main point, however, is just this. Under the above procedure, many important bills are either passed or turned down without proper consideration. Trades and labor compromises are the order of the day. Senate bills to the house on the House's kind treatment of one of its own pet measures. The Governor gets drawn into the whirlpool, too, and has a hard time getting legislation of real importance pushed through in time. It just doesn't make sense and there is no real excuse for it. There are ample precedents in the Legislature to work out an intelligent course of action in any given year.

One of the best acts of this Legislature was the approval of the bond issue for $4,750,000 for the modernization of the Boston Airport. Our own Rep. Francis whose picture adorned the Boston papers, was a vital factor in the passage of this bill. He led the debate on the floor of the House. Curiously enough, this bill was opposed bitterly by none other than Rep. Shattuck of Boston, formerly Treasurer of Harvard University. Then, Rep. Rawson of Newton took a prominent part in the drawing up of several important bills resulting from the Coconut Grove holocaust of Nov. 28, 1942. One bill defines "places of assembly," which was omitted from the public safety laws and hindered their fullest enforcement; another bill sets up a state board with authority to make rules concerning the construction and alteration of buildings to safeguard the public. Also, a resolve providing for a study of public safety in places of assembly was signed earlier in the closing week of the session. Rep. Margaret Spear of Newton was also quite active in the recent session and outshone many members of the sterner sex.

Two other Newtonians figured in the State House news during the past few weeks. Robert T. Bushnell, after being castigated unmercifully by one of the Boston Democrats, succeeded in getting an extra $10,000 for expenses of the Attorney General's office in 1943 and also in 1944. In this connection, may I remind my readers that Daniel Coakley, the impeached Governor's Councillor, MAY have had something to do with Bushnell's failure to make the Timilty indictment stick. Just remember that it was William H. Lewis, the old football star, who served Coakley so valiantly during his impeachment proceedings and who was ALSO in the foreground when Timilty sought to have his own indictment quashed. Is that merely a coincidence? I wonder.

City Treasurer C. C. Colby won a splendid victory up on Beacon Hill when a bill was enacted establishing a more equitable maintenance assessment by County Tubercular Hospitals. The detailed story was published in this paper last week, so I will merely state that Newton stands to save about $6,000 a year as a result of this legislation. Mr. Colby and Mr. Donald D. McKay have been working like Trojans for many years on this entire proposition and they are to be heartily congratulated on their recent victory, which came only after one obstacle after another had been overcome.

Newton residents will be pleased to learn that Lasell Junior College can now grant the degree of Associate in Arts or Sciences. Seven other schools and junior colleges were granted the same privilege.

I shall continue this discussion next week and call attention to one or two matters on the darker side of the picture.

CAMBRIDGE SUMMER THEATRE

At the Cambridge Summer Theatre, Brattle Hall, next week John Huntington and Louise Falk, co-managers, will present as their third offering of the season Jeanne Cagney in the hilarious comedy of speakeasy days, "Strictly Dishonorable." ## How to make your electric range last longer

Keep oven and surface units clean. If food or liquid spills on open coil type of surface unit, shut off current and remove residue with soft brush. Flat-bottomed utensils are suggested for best efficiency.

Rotate use of burners as you would the spare tire on your car. It will prolong their life. Surveys show left front unit is used 90% of the time. Are you overworking it, too?

Don't use too much water. Only a minimum amount of water in a pan is necessary in cooking vegetables. The less water you use, the more vitamins and minerals you'll save.

Have it checked occasionally. Your range was built to last. However, should it require repairs, have it checked immediately by a reliable serviceman. Don't try to fix it yourself.

States War Is Not The Evil

The current number (June 21) of Time Magazine contains a communication in its Letters Column from Chaplain John Shade Franklin, well known Baptist Clergyman of the Newtons, headed "War is not the Evil." Chaplain Franklin, who has been in the army for 28 months, says that our soldiers show no signs of real hatred for the enemy, but rather contempt, disgust, and dislike, sometimes bordering on pity. He goes on to say that war is not the evil which demands the Church's attention but the need of launching a crusade for the spirit exemplified by Jesus' Good Samaritan is the church's work.

Companion Of Rickenbacker Tells Of Ordeal

The assembly hall of Newton High was crowded with pupils and teachers June 15, to do honor to the school's distinguished guests, Colonel Hans Christian and Mrs. Adamson.

Rarely has a speaker been more eagerly awaited, and never have the pupils heard a more helpful and entertaining address. Howard Abbott, President of the Associates, introduced Colonel Adamson, companion of Captain Rickenbacker. Dispensing with his written speech and footlights, Colonel Adamson approached his subject and could not be given. "Stay in school while you can. Get all you can in your hearts and in your heads. Do not waste time, the most precious weapon we have. The army doesn't care what you have in your pocket books. It's what you have in your hearts, and in your heads that will count."

He told the story of the take-off from Honolulu for Island X, a thousand miles away. Morning and Island X was not where it should be. "Someone had moved it." Running low of fuel and unable to make reckonings because of faulty instruments, they risked radioing for directions, but came the reply that such message would surely be picked up by the enemy and could not be given. Briefly and in graphic style, Colonel Adamson told of preparations for landing, how they strapped Captain Rickenbacker, invalided a year and a half earlier in a plane accident, to the heaviest seat, and how he, heaviest member of the group, was more or less a buffer in the shock for the pilot and copilot. Safely they got on their raft, and not for two hours did the paralysis begin which incapacitated the Colonel from that time on. He spoke of the help of prayer and of the hymns they sang. He told of sharks, 12 and 15 feet long.

Colonel Adamson paid high tribute to the Navy, but with a smile to his wife, who is a daughter of a Navy family, declared that the navy pilot who spotted the raft and rescued the men was really lost himself and had come down to ask the Army for his bearings. "Have plenty of courage, and plenty of hope, and plenty of faith, and plenty of prayer," he said in closing. "Wrap these up in a bundle of humor, and tie the bundle with a little discipline. Then you can not fail."

Two More Schools Give Jeeps To Our Army Forces

Two more Newton schools presented Jeeps to the Army.

Following the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the salute to the flag led by Philip Ingwersen, a Jeep was presented to Captain Elmer Davis of the United States Army, First Service Command, from the students of the Oak Hill School. A Citation from the Treasury Department for service in successfully carrying out their Jeep Campaign was presented by Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Chairman of the Women's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee, and accepted for the school by Barbara Van Gorder. War songs were sung directed by Mr. Remley.

Each class went in single line to the Jeep, stepping in one side and out the other in order to say they had been in the Jeep which they had bought through their purchase of War Savings Stamps and Bonds for Uncle Sam.

The presentation took place on the lawn in front of the school house. Many mothers attended the exercises, including the "Stamp Leaders," Mrs. Bartels and Mrs. Maloney both of Oak Hill Village. After the program Mrs. Bartels entertained the guests at her home for tea.

The pupils of the Lincoln-Eliot School were proud indeed to present to Captain Elmer Davis of the United States Army their Jeep bought through their purchasing of War Savings Stamps.

Norman Mattson explained how they had bought the Jeep with a chart showing how each room had arrived at their percentage. Eleanor DiDuca presented the Jeep to Captain Davis and accepted the Treasury Citation which was presented by Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Chairman of the Women's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee. The singing of America, The Star Spangled Banner, and the salute to the flag concluded the program. The children then filed out to see and touch their Jeep before the Army took it away.

Plans For 1944 United War Fund Discussed

Campaign To Be Held This Year Between Nov. 8-24—No Quota Set Yet

Plans for the forthcoming 1944 United War Fund in Newton were discussed at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday evening, June twenty-first, by Charles B. Floyd, General Chairman, with his Division Chairmen and Advisory Committee. Although no goal has been set for the Greater Boston United War Fund and Newton's portion of his program was discussed for a broader program of publicizing the needs of the local Agencies in war time and the work of the many war partners and a more complete coverage of the city by solicitation.

Maynard Hutchinson, past president of the Newton Community Chest and former General Chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund, expressed gratification with the change of campaign dates this year, which will be from November 8 to November 24, 1943, instead of January and February when solicitation was done in recent years. He pointed out that Newton's recent quota was about $4.25 per capita, which, due to the character and caliber of our people, he considered not too high and stated that, with firm belief and unlimited confidence of the working organization and the people giving, Newton will reach higher goals if the need is there and understood by our citizens.

Mr. Floyd expressed confidence that with the fine organization he had been able to assemble he was certain that Newton would do the fine job in the next campaign that it has always done. Neil Leonard, President of the Chest, discussed many phases of the last campaign and promised Mr. Floyd the full cooperation of the Chest Officers and Board of Directors.

Two of the divisions in the Chest organization which was renamed this year. The Industrial Division, which is responsible for manufacturing plants, officers, and employees, will be renamed the "Manufacturing Division," while the division covering stores, banks, and similar organizations will be called the "Mercantile Division." This latter division was formerly known as the Woman's Division and through the addition of a number of Newton business men to the Woman's group, it was felt wise to change the name of the division.

Those present at the meeting were Charles B. Floyd, General Chairman; Neil Leonard, President; Maynard Hutchinson, Past President; Joseph E. Jamieson, Advisory Committee; William B. Plummer, Advisory Committee; Thomas E. Shirley, Advisory Committee; Daniel E. Watsen, chairman, Advance Gifts Division; Lawrence B. Damon, chairman, Residential Division; Mrs. Ganizon Morrison, chairman, Educational Division; Mrs. D. Allen Smith, assistant chairman, Events Committee; Vincent C. Stanley, chairman, Manufacturing Division; Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhardt, chairman, Mercantile Division; Harry H. Kay, assistant chairman, Mercantile Division; A. A. Robertson, chairman, Municipal Division; Charles C. Dasey, Advisory Chairman, Municipal Division; Julius E. Warren, assistant chairman, Municipal Division; Nelson E. Hooper, chairman, Public Relations Committee; Mrs. Horace T. Cole, chairman, Women's Service Committee; Herbert W. Kestle, Campaign Auditor; H. J. Pettengill, Executive Director; Miss Esther Walther, Assistant Campaign Director; and Miss Alice McKean, Office Secretary.

The following office appointments were announced by H. J. Pettengill, Executive Director; Miss Alice McKean as Financial Secretary and Mrs. Arthur T. Henderson as Campaign Secretary. Miss McKean is a recent graduate of the Katharine Gibbs School and lives at 130 Manning st., Needham Heights. Mrs. Henderson, before her marriage, was Patricia Taylor of 25 Westbourne rd., Newton Centre. She is a graduate of Lasell Junior College, Class of 1940. Her husband, Lt. Arthur T. Henderson, is with the U. S. Army Engineers on duty in Australia.

City To Take Tax Title July 6th

City Treasurer and Collector Clarence C. Colby has announced that on Tuesday, July 6, at 10 a. m. the city will take title to 429 parcels of real estate unless the 1942 taxes on same are paid prior to that time.

After taking title to these parcels on July 6 the city can wait 60 days before recording the titles at the Registry of Deeds, thus giving the property owners another chance to pay the overdue taxes before the titles are recorded by the city. If not paid within that time the property owners have two years in which to redeem the titles by paying the taxes with interest and costs before the city may acquire the property by foreclosure.

Large Barn Is Destroyed

A large barn on the farm at 349 Dedham st., Newton Centre, owned by Mrs. Wendell R. K. Mick, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week. Four prize bulls and a horse perished in the flames. Mr. Mick was able to rescue a cow from the building before the interior became a mass of flames.

The fire started in a load of hay which had just been brought into the barn. On arrival of fire apparatus in response to an alarm from Box 925, a second was ordered sounded by Chief John L. Keating which brought apparatus from Newton Corner, Newtonville and Newton Lower Falls.

The barn was situated about 100 feet from the house where employees of the farm reside, which became ignited from flying sparks. The firemen, however, were able to prevent any serious damage to the house. In the barn there was a quantity of hay, grain, fertilizer and valuable farm and milking equipment. It required about five hours work by the fire department to extinguish the blaze.

resemblance to her famous par-less an important milestone in the career of a great and charming actress.

In "Old Acquaintance"—a com-as a witty and penetrating insight into the workings of the feminine mind—Miss Gilbert will play the

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

THE MOST REMARKABLE POLITICAL propaganda of the war thus far is the effort Germany is making to nullify possible retributions for the crimes she has committed ever since the day in 1933 when Hitler came into power.

One might assume that after all these years of being taken in by it, the world would recognize every last propaganda trick in the Junker bag. Yet the same old tricks seem to work because the Germans, while raising, or lowering, propaganda to an unsurpassed level of unscrupulousness, yet base it on one elemental principle which they have tried out in their long career of deceit. This principle is: The greater the lie, the more easily will it be believed.

Through this cunning they were able to score many victories, but not the decisive ones. Military victory has escaped them, and they know it. But they still hope to escape the consequences of defeat by confusing their enemies. They now say: "You cannot exterminate the German people... we have created a great 'cultural unity' and to dismember the Reich would only lead to another war. . . . Why not then find a great German liberal to lead us back to normalcy?" So, at least, speak the Pan-Germans who would seek a peace as favorable as possible to Germany.

The Nazis would thus, if our peace conferences are to believe them again, achieve two aims:

(1) Protect them from the vengeance of the peoples they have so grievously wronged.

(2) Salvage Germany by keeping her frontiers intact and giving her time to again prepare for the day.

We can't find a single reason for giving these pleas any consideration. The only way to insure world peace after the war is by breaking up Germany into many pieces and never permitting her to again achieve political 'culture' or economic unity.

THE 33 NIGHTSHIRT LEADERS indicted early in January on charges of conspiring to sabotage the morale of the U. S. forces have faithful defenders in the unconstructed isolationists of the House and Senate.

The reason for this is simple: Many of these reactionary Congressmen are too closely linked with the accused for comfort. Evidence may be brought out at the trial about the misuse of Congressional frank and other Congressional privileges that would make unpleasant reading.

That these nightshirt leaders are confident of not being brought to trial is evidenced by the unrestricted activities of others of their ilk.

Nightshirt Edward James, of Concord, Mass., is even today spreading defeatist propaganda through the United States mails. James is disseminating this propaganda despite the fact that he is still on probation, having been indicted two years ago for libelling the President of the United States. His network of morale sabotage is now known as Yankee Freeman. It has its own insignia: four arrowheads forming a star. This insignia enables you to correspond with other agents. It is a secret sign, of a highly secret organization. It resembles the Hungarian Nazi symbol, Pfeilkronzler.

Agents are linked by so-called 'grape-vine' letters, written in 'James' own hand. You may hear one day from one Bishop St. Cornelius of Post Falls, Idaho, who is also known as Schroeder, or another day from George E. Hornby, of Boise, Idaho, or still another day from an agent in New York City, or from James himself. Your name has gotten around, and the network starts to function. You exchange ideas, slogans, etc. But your cues are gotten from James' letters. To date there are over 120 such letters. They were begun from Grand Canyon, Arizona, on September 27, 1942. They still come through the mails today. "Yankee Blue Cross" is the title of the grapevine letters and these are some samples of what you may find:

This is the "Yankee" goal: "When Yankee Freeman rule this country, political power will not be the 'inalienable right' of every imbecile and every scoundrel." (Letter No. 13)

Listen further and hear: "After we have 'debunked' democracy to a certain extent, we can begin to see the realities of things. Nobody did us any harm, or meant any harm to us, except the harm which we ourselves provoked, and yet we are now engaged in carrying out a mad-dog psychology aimed at conquering the whole world. Fruit of democracy and universal suffrage. It leads not to victory, but to appalling disaster." (Letter No. 17)

We then read this pro-Japanese apology for Jap aggression: "How about Japan? We got on very well with Japan until we began to discriminate against her. Japan did not discriminate against us. We discriminated against her. The Japanese were crowded on their little island. We told them they could not expand here. Later on we told them they could not expand anywhere. It was an ultimatum from us. When they protested against this ultimatum, we froze their credits in this country. This was an act of piracy or highway robbery." (Letter No. 19)

The above was written a year and two weeks after the attack on Pearl Harbor. James' hectoring letters, in his own writing, of course, is his own doom. He speaks of the Constitution, the memory of Washington in tones of reverence. Yet, he uses his private newsletter, his underground fascist (he does not like this word) organization, to undermine the very foundations upon which Washington and the framers of the Constitution founded our nation.

If James and other subversives believe they can get away with this sort of traitorous propaganda, they shouldn't these 33, who have the backing of powerful Congressmen, feel as confident?

AXIS PROPAGANDA A YEAR AGO: German-controlled Radio Paris: "Once again Rommel has shown himself superior in the conduct of operations, and he firmly holds all the initiative. Is it Rommel's object to conquer supply bases or harbors, or even to capture Suez? Knowing General Rommel's audacity, all hypotheses are permissible."

Stefani, official Italian News Agency: "The Italian people are justly proud of their navy which, standing up to the most powerful fleet in the world, was at first able to hold it at bay and later take the initiative, inflicting increasingly heavy losses until the complete reversal of the situation. From now on, the Italian navy is assured of an advantage over its adversary which will increase daily."

Italian home stations on the Mediterranean convoy battle: "The severe defeat, together with that suffered by the Eighth Army in Libya, means that Britain has definitely lost the Mediterranean."

The Coal Strike

Regardless of whether or not the current coal strike is settled by the time this column appears in print, the fact remains that the administration should never have allowed the situation to develop to such a crucial point. This is the third stoppage of coal mining within a relatively brief period. Nothing is to be gained by apportioning the blame. Anybody with half a brain knows perfectly well that John L. Lewis is NOT the sole culprit, even though he must naturally bear the heaviest load. Lewis could and should have been checked a long time ago, just as Adolf Hitler could and should have been checked, long before he rose to his present stature. F. D. R.'s chickens have come home to roost. That is the sum and substance of the situation. As many editorial writers have pertinently pointed out, the issue is simply this: "Who is running this country of ours, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt or John L. Lewis?" I think that the millions of men in our armed forces would like to know the answer. Furthermore, it is a safe bet that those millions of voters will make their influence felt in a big way when they have their first opportunity to express themselves at the polls. That, incidentally, is one of the main reasons why many of our leading commentators are now expecting Mr. Roosevelt to sign the Smith-Connolly anti-strike bill, currently reposing on the President's desk. Surely the President must realize that he could scarcely go before the country as a fourth-term candidate AFTER refusing to sign such desperately-needed legislation, unless, of course, some miracle should take place and the current strike should be settled once and for all.

Another thought. What do you suppose our President would have done IF the leaders of big business had deliberately brought about the present crisis? Does anybody doubt, on the basis of the past record in the handling of big business, that Mr. Roosevelt would have cracked down immediately and heavily on the guilty management officials? Would he not have pointed out the obvious fact that big business was cooperating with Hitler and Benito and Tojo and giving them all wonderful aid and comfort? Of course he would. Why, then, not treat the disloyal and un-American John Lewis in the same manner?

"They Also Ran"

May I call your attention to a vitally interesting book recently published by Doubleday-Doran, entitled "They Also Ran," written by Irving Stone. Mr. Stone discusses at some length the men who were defeated for the Presidency and considers what would have happened to the country had they been elected. After dwelling at length on William Jennings Bryan and Willkie, among others, he comes to the conclusion that the American people have been discerning in five important elections, derelict in three and with one contest a dead heat. ### Congressman Herter

It is pleasant to record that our new Congressman, Christian A. Herter of Boston, is playing an active part down in Washington. To be sure, the great and only James Michael Curley has already achieved fame by having the missing ear on a bust of Calvin Coolidge replaced, but it remained for Mr. Herter to file a bill of considerable importance which, if passed, will enable approximately 12,000,000 persons in lower-income brackets to receive federal assistance totaling between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 under a food stamp plan which Mr. Herter has devised. He calls his bill an "out-and-out subsidy to consumers" and offers it as a substitute for the administration's retail price roll-back subsidy program. It might be well to follow this bill closely during the coming weeks.

Two Lightning-roads

Former Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, listed as a Republican but not famous for any earnest campaigning for the G.O.P. in this writer's memory, has again decided that he would enjoy holding some political office. This time he is headed for the Boston School Committee, from which vantage point he will later take off for the Mayoralty. Nice work if he can get it. The plan seems to be as follows: Nichols will make a strong campaign for the School Committee and try to roll up a huge vote, thus paralyzing a number of other Boston politicians who also have their eyes on the Mayor's chair. Of course, the insiders know that School Committee member Joe White of Jamaica Plain also has Mayoral ambitions. Can Nichols defeat White? Even if he can, will that necessarily mean that he can go on to final victory? I wouldn't know.

WASHINGTON — The best evidence that the air offensive is proving effective is in Franco's concern over the humanitarian aspects of fair war. Franco is the Hitler stooge who gloried in the destruction of Warsaw and who watched with smug satisfaction the long suffering of Britishers when London was being blitzed, Coventry pulverized and churches destroyed.

Now the Spanish Dictator is horrified because his brother fascists are writhing under the destruction they have brought down upon themselves. This sudden convert to humanity has the audacity to suggest negotiations to refrain both sides from raiding each other.

The efficiency of bomb delivery to Germany and Italy by day and night is increasing with every raid. On the Eastern front also the Russians are consistently inflicting great damage and there is considerable hope that Goering's reserve Luftwaffe will not alter Russian air superiority.

The Allied air forces are now carrying on the first comprehensive air attack in history. The air offensive is effective, but while nations do not surrender to air power alone, strategic bombings will probably continue at an even greater tempo in spite of Franco's humanitarian appeal, until the day comes for the tactical land invasion. Our ground men can then be relied upon to provide rallying points for our friends, and concentration points for our enemies to accept unconditional surrender terms.

Motorists in the Eastern States cast envious eyes at those motorists in the Middle West who are still able to drive a movie or to a race track without bringing penalties upon themselves.

The reason for this apparent unfairness to the East is understandable when one realizes that the gasoline used by midwesterners is moved to them by pipe lines which unfortunately terminate in the Midwest. Every tank car which is capable of being used for the purpose has been stripped from the Middle West to rush gasoline to the East. 72,000 tank cars are now being used for that purpose compared with 19,000 cars employed in this service in normal times. But the East, even after forbidding all pleasure driving and curbing all commercial vehicles by 40 per cent, still faces a deficit of 30,000 barrels of gasoline daily. And with demands from abroad increasing by the hour there is little or no possibility that the stringent ruling will be relaxed for the rest of the summer.

While the fighting men of our armed forces get deserved headlines, one of the untold stories of this war is the important part played by "limited service" men. Few people realize that these non-combatant service men actually keep the army going and that without them the fighting forces wouldn't be the crack outfits they are today.

The "L. S." troops are the men who, because of some physical defect, are limited in their activities to clerical, administrative and other necessary work in training camps. There's more grunts than glamour in "limited service," but fighters will be fighting months ahead of any schedule otherwise possible because they are able to concentrate on their jobs while "L. S." men service the transport, fire, police, health, garbage collection service and other camp "housekeeping."

There's nothing in army regulations that forbids sending "L. S." soldiers overseas to perform these tasks. They are real soldiers and any military man will tell you that they are performing their duties, with honor—if without glory.

WALTER PIERCE REPORTS: Army airmen hunting U-boats and blasting them to the bottom have routed the undersea enemy in American coastal waters. . . . In the wide Atlantic seamen who told us two months ago "We'll get them yet!" now say "We've got them licked." . . . The late Giulio Douhet, pioneer Italian exponent of modern air warfare, has suddenly been disowned by his country. His theories, faithfully followed in early Axis raids over Poland, France and Britain, are now rejected by the Fascist press. . . . Regime "Fascista," Mussolini organ, claims "Douhet's ideas never were put into effect by Italy." Begging for mercy? . . . Another great purge of the Nazi party ranks is imminent. Berlin radios are blasting away at "luke-warm bourgeois" and urge the return of party activities to power. Probably an external blood-bath to detract attention from defeats in the field. . . . Our requirements of rubber for all purposes are 609,000 tons for 1943. A stock pile of over 400,000 tons and new supplies of synthetic rubber will give us a slight excess this year. By 1944 we shall be making the equivalent of 750,000 tons of crude rubber besides importing 74,000 tons. On the whole the rubber program is coming on satisfactorily.

Electric, and diesel as a means of motivation, and while the changes in forecast, there unquestionably will be many and important changes made.

Harry H. Hanson introduced the speaker. Among the guests were a number of Rotarians high in office, Harold Howe, District Governor; Edward Howard, District Treasurer; Stewart Allen, Trustee; Harry A. Starr, Past District Governor. One of the visiting guests was Philip Ahlin, Editor of the Newton Graphic.

Board members of the Newton District Nursing Association, heard with interest, the information on Child Care Centers, as presented by Mrs. Ruth Taylor Stone, director of one of the nursery schools in Newton.

Today there is much discussion and there are many arguments on this question, and there is a strong feeling against bringing large groups of children together. The situation should not be put into the hands of untrained workers and no one organization should be allowed to control the child care situation. Industry is not urging the drafting of mothers of small children, however strong these women may be or how great the need for increased income. These mothers should be home with their children who need stability at this time. Mrs. Stone feels that "Child Minders" such as were tried in England, should not be allowed to get a foothold in this country. There is a Child Care Committee in Newton, which is studying and working on this problem. If and when the need is determined, it will be met.

Kiwanis Activities

Pete Pettingill, Executive Secretary of the Newton Community Chest and member of the Newton Kiwanis Club, was a speaker at their meeting held last Tuesday at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Mr. Pettingill's subject was "Newton, the Old-Home Town."

Mr. Pettingill emphasized the opportunity that Newton has to boost its own home town at home and when Newton people are visiting other states. He mentioned the fact that California and Florida were always advertising their advantages, but that Newton had two states could not claim.

Referring briefly to the history of Newton, he said that it was originally a part of Cambridge, but in 1691 was named Newtowne by court order. Later on one of the city clerks of Newton, on his own authority, changed the name to Newton.

Mr. Pettingill said that the first town hall was built in West Newton and that it was located there in order that it might be a safe distance away from the powder storage house which was located in Newton Centre. Mr. Pettingill said that originally the Boston and Albany Railroad was laid out so that the tracks would have gone through Watertown and Waltham. People residing in those two cities put up such a complaint, stating that to have the railroad go through those cities would ruin their business, spoil their homes, that it was finally changed. Forward-looking citizens of Newton at that time saw the ultimate advantages of the railroad and requested that it be built through Newton. This was an example of the earlier wisdom of those who originally settled Newton. Mr. Pettingill mentioned that the first permanent normal school for women in the entire world was opened in Newton.

He also mentioned its great natural beauty which is being carefully preserved. Newton is known as one of the most attractive cities in New England—a city of homes, a city of fine highways, of attractive approaches.

He said that Newton was also known as the city of health, and complimented the work of our health officials very highly.

Newton also has a national reputation for the excellence of its schools, Newton being first in the cities of its size in scholastic standing. He emphasized this as important because after all, the schools are building the citizens of the future. He said that he had found Newton to be a city of character, devoted to the American way of doing things. He said that this was so because of the high quality of our city government and also because people of character and ideals were willing to volunteer their services. As examples he mentioned the Board of Aldermen and School Committee and many other committees which in an official or unofficial way helped to build Newton.

The speaker mentioned the excellent handling of Newton's finances. He stated that a great service was rendered for the amount of taxes paid. As an example he mentioned our park system of 517 acres; also the City Hall which is one that Newton residents are glad to show to their friends.

Mr. Pettingill described at length the excellent work of the various social agencies of Newton, every one of which is doing a grand job in character building, looking after the aged, recreation and in serving in every way. He said that these agencies were really building a wonderful Newton of the future. He said that his experience in working with these agencies had been very enjoyable, that they were all working together in close harmony, and doing perhaps one of the best jobs being done anywhere throughout the country.

CIVIL AIR PATROL NOW RECRUITING MEMBERS

Offers Opportunities in Aviation Training

If you are interested in aviation and have been discouraged by wartime regulations, Civil Air Patrol offers you pre-flight training. As a member of the Civil Air Patrol you are allowed to receive actual flight training at your own expense. Civilian flight training is now limited to Civil Air Patrol members and plane owners.

In addition to recruiting regular members from 18 years and up, the Civil Air Patrol has recently opened its ranks to High school juniors and seniors of American citizenship and of good scholastic standing. The Civil Air Patrol Cadets is a strictly military organization attached to the Civil Air Patrol. Civil Air Patrol Cadets as well as regular Civil Air Patrol members, will receive pre-flight training, participate in regular drill and be given the priority needed to buy flight time.

A specified 25 hours of probationary training is required before candidates will be able to obtain full membership in the Civil Air Patrol, or wear the uniform. Probationary training includes: Military Courtesy and Discipline, Infantry Drill and preliminary Pre-Flight instruction. Advanced training consists of courses in Civil Air Regulations, Meteorology, Navigation and Servicing and Operation of Aircraft.

If you contemplate entering any branch of the Air Forces, this training will be invaluable. The Army is cooperating with the Civil Air Patrol in this training program.

All persons who are interested and qualify as to age and citizenship may write to the following address for further information and for application in the Civil Air Patrol.

SOME VICTORY RULES FOR CANNING VICTORY VEGETABLES

Canning without rules is like driving in a strange country without a road map—one is likely to go in the wrong direction. The wrong direction in canning is toward spoilage—loss of canned food through spoilage is deplorable and unnecessary in time of peace, and inexcusable in time of war. Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, gives the following sure-fire rule for successful home-canning:

1. Use jars intended for home-canning. Every one of them has a name lettered on the side.
2. Examine every jar to make sure that it is in good condition. Give special attention to the top edges of Mason jars. Most of them must be sealed with glass top seal closures or two-piece metal vacuum seals, because the zinc that is used in the one-piece Mason caps has gone to the battle front. The glass top and vacuum seals can take the zinc cap's place on the home front only when used on jars with perfect top edges.
3. Do not stretch rubbers to test.
4. Wash and rinse jars, lids and rubbers. Then cover jars, zinc caps, and glass lids with lukewarm water, heat to boiling, and keep hot. Jars and lids to be used for old-fashioned open-kettle canning must be boiled 20 to 30 minutes. Wash rubbers and vacuum-seal lids, drop into boiling water, and keep hot until needed if to be used for processing (cooking food in jars). They must be boiled to sterilize for open-kettle canning.
5. Get canners and jars ready before starting to prepare vegetables.
6. Use vegetables that are fresh from the garden. The alien enemies, mould, yeast and bacteria, stand ready to sabotage any and all vegetables left standing over night or all through a long, hot morning.
7. Be sure that everything to be canned is at the right stage for canning. Shelled beans and peas should be young and tender—a few over-size or over-mature ones can cause the loss of the whole batch. The pods of string beans should be crisp and meaty—corn in full milk stage—and tomatoes red-ripe, firm, and sound. Wash all fruits and vegetables before breaking the skins.
8. Hot pack all vegetables except tomatoes. Hot pack means to cook the food a few minutes, then pour it into hot jars for processing. This is the best way to can most fruits.
9. Fill no more jars at a time than your canner will hold.
10. Leave ample head space and plenty of room for liquid to circulate between pieces of food when filling jars for processing.
11. Tighten metal bands on two-piece metal vacuum seal caps before processing. Do not tighten again.
12. Partly seal for processing, all jars on which a jar rubber is used.
13. Place jars in the canner immediately after packing and process the time called for in the recipe. Remember, time guessing has no place in canning.
14. Take jars out of canner as promptly as possible after the processing time is up and complete the seal on all that are partly sealed for processing (see Rule 12).
15. Set hot jars as far apart as possible so they will cool quickly, but do not place in a draft.
16. Be sure every jar of canned food is sealed before it is put away.
  - a. Take the bands off glass top seals after the jars have stood over night and test the seal by pulling gently on lid with finger tips. Don't put the bands back on the jars.
  - b. Remove bands from vacuum seals 12 or 15 hours after canning and test the seal by pressing on the lid with the finger. If tightly sealed, there will be no "give" to the lid. Don't put the bands back on the jars.
  - c. One-piece zinc caps are drawn down flat when sealed. Do not turn Mason jars upside down—this rule applies when using glass top seals, vacuum seals, and zinc caps.
  - d. Test "lightning" jars after they are cold by holding them upside down and examining for leaks.
17. Be finicky when it comes to cleanliness. Get rid of house flies. Remember, they prefer food to foot tub for a winter home.
18. Don't ask your neighbor how to can. She may not be as up-to-date as she thinks she is. It is far better to get a good recipe book and follow directions to the letter. As good a one as can be bought costs only a dime.

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS these days are weapons of war! Keep them free for war business! The lines to these and other war centers outside New England are unusually congested. Please avoid any calls other than war messages — except in extreme urgency.

You can help, too, by canceling any long distance call when you are told that the circuits are busy. If you'll be considerate regarding non-essential calls, we'll be able to give all really essential calls, even to the busy places, prompt service.
